All 18 entrants in the Junior Chamber of Commerce mass swim attempt on Juan de Fuca Strait are today in training in local waters.

With only four days to go before "plunge" time Sunday, some are spending as much as eight hours daily in training grinds.

The race will start at 12 noon Sunday from Horseshoe Bay, Beacon Hill Park.

Each swimmer will be accompanied by a rowboat and a powerboat.

The contestants represent seven cities in Canada and the United States. Cities are Victoria, Oakland, San Francisco, Vancouver, Detroit, Roxbury, Mass., and Atlantic City, N.J.

A jackpot of $10,000 will be divided among the swimmers who cross the strait.

First prize is $3,000; second, $2,500; third, $1,500, and fourth, $1,000.

Jaycee swim committee officials said they felt that at least four swimmers will finish the course, providing the weather is ideal for the event.

"There are some powerful swimmers in the group," said one official. "Some have had wide experience and are accustomed to cold water."

Some of the swimmers have been training secretly. One is Anna Burian, of Vancouver, who came to Victoria two weeks ago but did not let anyone know of her arrival.

California's top swimmers include Jean Perle, Amy Hillard, Paul Herron, Myra Thompson and Toufie Blake. One European, Jason Greganos, a former Greek army major, also is entered.

Other swimmers in the race are, Robert Black, Atlantic City, N.J.; Charles Grover, Roxbury, Mass.; Janice White, Detroit, Mich.; Ben Laughren, Cpl. Bruce Holmes, Anita Long, Allan Small and Billie Benedict all of Victoria, Gerhard Hoffman, Vancouver; Paul Herron, Oakland, Calif.; and Myra Thompson, San Francisco.

Arms Talks At Crisis, West Divided

LONDON (AP)—U.S. State Secretary Dulles met for the first time with Russian delegate Valerian orin today amid indications that the protracted United Nations disarmament talks may be at a critical turning point.

30 CP Freight Cars Derailed, Cattle Killed

WINNIPEG (CP)—About 30 cars were derailed at nearby Rosser, Man., Tuesday night when an eastbound CPR freight train plowed into the rear of another freight which had stopped on a siding after a hotbox developed. Many cattle were killed and a large quantity of grain spilled.

Three Winnipeg crewmen of the derailed train were taken to hospital, although not badly hurt. They are Douglas Cameron, 38, engineer, who suffered a badly lacerated ear and a few bruises; Thomas Miller, 18, front brakeman, with a few bruises; and fireman, James Varnes, 30, who suffered lacerations and bruises and is in fair condition. Miller and Cameron are reported in good condition.

A siding employee said the engineer and fireman jumped from their diesel locomotive just before it rammed into the caboose of the stationary freight. Miller remained in the cab. The locomotive ended up twisted and straddled across three sets of tracks.

The moving freight smashed about four or five of the rear cars of the stationary train. No one was in the caboose.

The crash scene was littered with dead cattle. RCMP had to shoot many of the beasts, trapped in and under the wreckage. Some of the dazed animals were pulled out from under the jack-knifed cars, to walk away on wobbly legs. Many had to be destroyed by a veterinarian.

Douks to Hold Mass Meeting

NELSON, B.C. (CP)—A mass meeting of district Sons of Freedom will be held at Krestova Sunday to hear reports of a delegation to Victoria last week which was told the government had no plans for summer vacations for Freedomite children.

Decision to hold the meeting was made, following funeral of Mrs. Mary Geinger, who was found dead at Krestova last Wednesday, the day the delegation met government officials.

A coroner's jury found Tuesday night that Mrs. Geinger died from asphyxia.

The Dulles-Zorin get-together was part of feverish diplomatic activity by the Big Three Western powers on the next to the last day of the period originally set for the negotiations by the UN disarmament subcommittee. The five-power group has been meeting since March 18.

Dulles met with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and other Western officials before sitting down at a full-scale "working luncheon" of all five delegations on the subcommittee, including Zorin.

In Paris, the French cabinet met and afterwards Foreign Minister Christian Pineau announced he was flying Thursday to London at Dulles' request for disarmament talks.

The British cabinet, too, was called into session.

In addition, Dulles planned to confer with Prime Minister Macmillan at dinner tonight to discuss the arms situation and other world problems.

The intense diplomatic manoeuvring seemed to indicate either that Britain, France and the United States have run into basic differences in their approach to the disarmament problem—or that they are preparing some important new proposal for Russian consideration.

Most signs seem to point to a difference among the three Western nations on nuclear matters. However, following the "working luncheon" at the home of U.S. Ambassador John Hay Whitney, the Western nations, arranged a meeting of their experts to draw up a list of the subjects on which the Western Allies are still at odds.

After the list had been thrashed out by the experts, it will be discussed by Dulles, Lloyd and other top-level officials.

It appeared likely that Zorin would be given at least the outline of a limited "open skies" proposal to guard against a sneak nuclear attack which Dulles and other Western officials had agreed upon in private talks Tuesday and today.

Spying Alleged

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—The Free Press says emigrants from the Soviet Union living in Canada are being urged to spy on their fellow emigrants and to transmit the information "to the closest Soviet representatives."

Oman Rebels Cracking Land Attack Imminent

MUSCAT, Sultanate of Muscat and Oman (UP)—A land attack on the rebels of Oman is imminent and the 200-strong rebel forces already are showing signs of cracking, the Sultan's foreign minister said today.

The minister, a Briton named Neil Innes, said pro-sultan tribes and British officered troops are marshalling around the 25 by 15-mile mountain area held by the Imam, religious leader of the rebel forces.

Innes said the rebels already have lost control of Izki, the key town in the rebel-held area. The Beau Geste-style fort of Izki has been a main target of Royal Air Force Venom jet rocket attacks in recent days.

Innes said surrender ultimatums have been sent to rebel Imam Ghaleb and his brother, Talib, and that it was unlikely the Imam and his brother would be treated leniently if they did not heed the ultimatum.

NO WORD ON CHARGES AGAINST 'SWITCH' BOYS

WINNIPEG (CP)—The mother of two small boys, seven and nine years of age, who loosened a siding switch that derailed a Canadian National Railway's train and injured 86 persons, says she does not know whether charges will be laid against them.

In a telephone interview she said "we haven't heard a word yet."

CNR Vice-President J. R. McMillan would neither confirm nor deny a report that it is unlikely charges will be laid against the boys.

Hoffa Linked With Gangster

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Senate rackets committee charged today that James R. Hoffa, crown prince of the big teamsters' union, joined with racketeer John (Johnny Dio) Dioguardi in seeking an economic stranglehold of the eastern seaboard.

They also said he bypassed the hierarchy to charter seven New York "paper locals" and rig a union election.

Committee Chairman John J. McClellan (D-Ark.), Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-S.D.), and Chief Counsel Robert F. Kennedy stressed the danger to the nation when key union leaders are "beholden" to gangsters and racketeers.

The charges were made in committee discussion preliminary to taking testimony this afternoon in the newest phase of its work—teamster activities in the New York City area.

Kennedy said Dio wormed his way into the labor movement in 1950 when he took over a catch-all union first chartered by the old AFL. Hoffa, he said, has a "close relationship" with Dio and once invited him to "bring his union into the teamsters."

The counsel said that Dave Beck, who is stepping down as teamsters' president after being accused of misusing more than $320,000 of the union's funds, blocked one attempt by Hoffa to get Dio into the teamsters.

AFL-CIO President Expels Teamster

WASHINGTON (UP)—AFL-CIO President George Meany today expelled Paul Dorfman, a close associate of teamsters Vice-President James R. Hoffa, as an officer and member of a small local union in Chicago.

Meany said Dorfman was guilty of violating AFL-CIO rules and ethical practices and of having "compromising personal ties" with an insurance agency doing business with the teamsters.

Action Sparked By Fatal Chase

Crackdown on law-breaking juvenile drivers was ordered today by Victoria Police Commission.

The drive will start immediately and use of ghost cars, manned by plainclothesmen, is being considered as one means of curbing the menace.

The firm stand taken at a commission meeting was sparked by the recent death of a 13-year-old boy, Gunnar Stebeck, in an off-cliff crash on Dallas Road in a stolen car in which three other juveniles were injured.

"Crack down on the juvenile drivers out for a crazy time," said Commissioner Gordon Carter.

"Strict enforcement of the law is the answer," said Commissioner William Hamilton.

Mr. Carter said "people are screaming" against behavior of adolescents in cars.

"It is worth the taxpayers' money to do something about it."

It is time, said Mr. Hamilton, that juvenile drivers learned they can't "laugh" at the police department.

Commission chairman, Mayor Percy Scurrell, said:

"Get tough, as tough as blazes. The time has arrived when we can't afford to be lenient. I'd throw the book at any juveniles breaking driving laws."

Mr. Hamilton suggested that cars, driven by teenagers, that cruise around and around the Yates-Douglas area, be stopped again and again and the drivers asked for licenses.

This, he said, would discourage the drivers, on the prowl for other youths or "pick-up" girl friends.

Police Chief John Blackstock said he was handicapped by a lack of men in dealing with the problem.

But he said he would work out the situation and hit it hard.

Mr. Scurrell said if money for a ghost car was not in the budget, he'd ask city council to dig the money out of contingency funds.

"We must do anything we can to stop this," he said concerning teen-age driving habits.

The police chief added that his men were clamping down on drivers who left keys in their cars, which left them wide open for juveniles to steal.

But he added nothing could be done when wires behind the dashboard were crossed.

The mayor urged that the Motor Vehicle Branch of the provincial government be approached with stiffer recommendations from the police department for lengthening of licence suspensions for juvenile infractors.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

Dear God of travelers, we seek Thy blessing upon the thousands who will be in other lands during this summer. May they realize the privilege of representing well our country. May the countries they visit be better for the contacts. May they also be ambassadors for Thee, and so the whole world be drawn more closely about Thy throne; for Christ's sake. Amen.

Very sorry to see the old Roundabout's gonna be torn up. They'll leave me the only feller in this end o' town who's still goin' round in circles.

Gas prices goin' up. The legislature allus sets the pace.

Gonna visit the Gyro hole-in-one contest tonight. They's the only sport in the world where you put a ball 1.68 inches in diameter on another one 25,000 miles in diameter and try to knock it in a hole four inches wide!

John D. Facing Opposition Fire

Delay in Filling Cabinet Posts Threatens Attack From Parties

OTTAWA (BUP)—Opposition sources hinted today that Prime Minister John Diefenbaker may be risking a major political attack if he delays much longer in filling vacant cabinet posts.

MONARCH PUTS BITE ON SUBJECT

HARRISON, Mich. (AP)—Doubt him if you will, but Ben Lockwood has evidence to prove he was attacked by a butterfly. Lockwood said he was repairing his home and made an impatient motion with his hand to shoo away a large monarch butterfly fluttering nearby. He claims the creature "attacked" and inflicted a sharp pinch on Lockwood's arm.

Yukon Tories Claim Liberal Win Illegal

WHITEHORSE, Y.T. (CP)—A claim that irregularities occurred in federal voting in the Yukon, June 10, was made here Tuesday by Erik Nielsen, unsuccessful Progressive Conservative candidate.

Mr. Nielsen petitioned the Yukon territorial court to void the election of Aubrey Simmons, Liberal candidate who was re-elected to Parliament with a majority of 64 votes.

The petition holds that 20 of the 171 soldier votes were improperly handled. It claims that persons whose names did not appear on the voters list in a polling division were allowed to vote in that division.

In other cases, it is charged, persons not resident in the Yukon were allowed to vote. Fifty reservation Indians were also alleged to have been given the vote, as well as persons under 21. The petition lists 14 cases of people voting twice.

Admission of facts by Mr. Simmons could, at the discretion of Mr. Justice J. E. Gibson, bring the petition up for hearing late this summer. If the petition is granted a new election will be necessary.

Mr. Simmons, who had not received his copy of the petition, said that until he did it would be impossible to express an opinion on the action.

"I wish to assure all Yukoners, however, that following an investigation of the alleged irregularities, I shall be the first one to agree that another election will be held, should it appear that I did not receive a true mandate from the people of the Yukon," he said.

HE NEVER BOTHERED WITH LICENCE

VANCOUVER (CP)—A 36-year-old man admitted here that he had been driving his wife's car for 14 years without a driver's licence.

Stephen Dallos told Magistrate Gordon Scott he never bothered applying for a licence. He was fined $125 for impaired driving $35 for driving without a licence, and was forbidden to drive for five months.

Playgrounds Tennis Playoffs Under Way

Playoffs in the annual city playgrounds' tennis tournament were being held at Central Park courts this afternoon.

Finalists were Linda Moretti and Pat Casey, girls' novice division; Bob Moffitt and Ricky Fraser, boys' novice; Gillian Thomas and Joan Henze, girls' open, and Ron Lacey and Rod Arundell, boys' open.

T. Eaton Co. will award prizes to the winners.

Final big event of the city playground season will be the annual field day at Central Park Friday afternoon. Other city parks will be closed so that

Prison Rioters Release Hostages

DEER LODGE, Mont. (AP)—Rioting Montana prison convicts agreed Tuesday night to release five guards held as hostages and return to their cells after rioting nearly nine hours.

Prison officials said the rioters in cell block 8 who were holding six guards as hostages let one free, then shortly after ward told Attorney-General Forrest Anderson that they would release the guards and go to their cells on his promise to investigate their 20 demands for improvement in prison administration.

Anderson told the prisoners he would study their demands, which ranged from asking authority to select their own prison band guard officer to being permitted to send three instead of one letter a week. The rioters' decision to return to their cells and free the guards came as nearly 200 Montana National Guardsmen and peace officers prepared to assault the state prison at 3.30 a.m. to free the guards.

Shortly after Anderson was told the prisoners had decided to halt the rioting, lights went on in cell blocks and watchers across the street could see men filing into their cells.

Shortly after the prisoners were locked up for the night, the guards who had been held in cell block 8 walked out of the prison. They did not appear to have been mistreated.

Too Many Immigrants?

THE FIRST DECISIVE ACT OF the Diefenbaker Government is to reduce immigration. This is ironic when the former Government and its minister of immigration, Mr. Pickersgill, were so constantly attacked by the Conservative Party for failing to bring in enough immigrants.

Mr. Pickersgill worked so hard, in the last year or so, to increase the flow of immigrants—especially from Britain—that his success is regarded by his successors as a mistake.

He did what the Government thought wise, what the Opposition frequently recommended and what the nation seemed to desire.

Now it appears, in the judgment of the new Government, that both Mr. Pickersgill and the former Opposition were quite wrong. Canada cannot afford to accept even the immigrants eager to come here this year. The flow is to be cut down drastically, how drastically the public does not yet know.

It is certain, however, that the reduction will be substantial. The new regulations will assure that and, incidentally, produce a cruel disappointment in Europe.

After today, the new regulations say, no immigrant will be admitted unless he has arranged for a job here in advance. This order must destroy the plans of thousands of people who had managed to secure travel accommodation with great difficulty this year and who, though lacking assured jobs in Canada, were confident of employment soon after their arrival.

It is particularly cruel that these persons, assured of entry by a former Government, are now barred from Canada without notice after many of them, no doubt, had left their jobs, sold their homes and rearranged their lives on the assumption of a welcome to this country.

It is too early to anticipate exactly how the new policy of restriction will work out and who will be its victims. It is not clear either why the Government had to act so suddenly instead of admitting the immigrants already on their way and then, if necessary, cutting down the movement later on, with fair warning.

The Government's only explanation of its action so far is that the nation may lack jobs for its own people and for immigrants during the next year or so.

It is always economic nonsense to assume that more people inevitably mean less jobs. In a growing economy an increasing labor force, and hence an increasing production, should mean more wealth and more jobs.

It is quite true, however, that a heavy immigration movement may cause temporary difficulties and readjustments and that the inflow of new Canadians must be kept within reasonable bounds.

Surely, however, the movement planned by the former Government was not excessive and may, indeed, have been on the small side, as the Conservatives contended before they came to office. Surely the new Government is not already basing its policy on the assumption of a business recession when the public has been assured of the reverse in the recent election.

Death and a Bird's Nest

IN WASHINGTON A CEMETERY caretaker who said he had been having trouble with trespassers and vandals, fired a gun "in the general direction" of a nine-year-old boy.

The boy had climbed a tree to get a better look at a bird's nest. The "general aim" of the caretaker was too specific. The boy was killed.

A youngster, with a boy's natural curiosity and interest in the world around him, is the fatal victim of an adult's incompetence with a rifle—if the caretaker's explanation can be accepted charitably.

The Big Pressure

EARLY THIS YEAR THE BANK of Canada estimated that the nation's annual investment program would reach an all-time peak of something like $8.5 billions—the amount spent on capital expansion, private and governmental.

Many economists regarded the Bank's figure as far too high. Experts of the trade and commerce department expected the investment program to total only about $8 billions at most and they were inclined, therefore, to believe that the Bank's anxiety about inflation was exaggerated.

It was between these two sets of advisors that Mr. Walter Harris was compelled to choose when he framed his last budget. His compromise, in this incalculable situation, took the form of some tax reductions, a modest revenue surplus and a refusal to interfere with the Bank's monetary policies which, as he said, are strictly the Bank's business under the law.

Whether Mr. Harris was right or wrong is politically irrelevant now, since his government has been replaced by another with different fiscal policies. But the facts of the year's progress have completely vindicated the experts of the Bank.

As they predicted at the beginning, the figures for the first half of the year show that the capital investment program will reach $8.5 billions at least.

These figures are difficult for a layman to understand though their effects on every Canadian family must be profound.

It will be easier to understand them if we note the corresponding figures in the United States. There the capital investment program, like ours, is breaking previous records and now seems likely to reach $37 billions.

Thus 16,000,000 Canadians are investing at least $8.5 billions in industry and public improvements of many sorts while ten times as many Americans are investing $37 billions.

Canada's economic growth is proportionately much more rapid than that of our neighbors. It is more than twice as fast. If the Americans were investing at our rate per capita they would be spending not $37 billions but more than $80 billions.

It is doubtful, indeed, that any nation is expanding proportionately as fast as Canada this year. It is certain anyway that no nation of our population has ever achieved our present growth. But this process necessarily produces growing pains to which we loosely give the name of inflation.

The simple fact is that we are attempting this year to build slightly more than our supplies of materials and manpower allow, even though we are borrowing about a billion dollars from the United States.

This margin between the demand and the supply is the basic cause of price increases. Our inflation stems mainly out of the capital boom, not out of the ordinary consumer's appetite for consumer goods. And this kind of capital inflation can continue even while there are soft spots, like the great British Columbia lumber industry, in the national economy.

Hot Dogs—But Small

THE OTHER DAY MEMBERS OF the American Bar Association, convening in London, were guests at a Buckingham Palace garden party. As a special surprise, they were served hot-dogs and hamburgers, the first ever provided for such an occasion. Westerners will appreciate the friendliness of the Royal gesture.

They will also appreciate the fact that the "dogs" were small and the "burgers" only the size of a silver dollar. The digestion of the distinguished American legal guests was not threatened.

An American tradition was honored, and gracefully.

But is this a dangerous precedent?

If the elect of Britain's bar visit the United States, may they find, at a White House reception, that jellied eel and tripe—traditional dishes in some parts of Britain—are being served in their honor?

The prospect is dismaying, but the British bar could rise to the occasion. Unquestionably it has swallowed worse in its long and honorable history.

Just Don't Let It Boil Over

FROM WASHINGTON

By STEWART ALSOP

Ike and Civil Rights

AS the civil rights drama boils to a climax, the man to watch is President Dwight D. Eisenhower. The outcome of the fight may depend on how firmly and openly the President injects himself into it. What is probably more important, the President's personal prestige on Capitol Hill will be profoundly affected by the stand he now takes.

As strongly pro-Eisenhower Time magazine has reported, the President's standing with Congress is at a new low. The administration's amazing backing and filling on the defense budget has alienated those who supported the President in the budget fight. What the Washington Post called the President's "vacillation and inertia" on his own School Aid bill is credited with the defeat of the bill in the House. By the same token, his equivocal position on section three of the Civil Rights bill certainly helped to kill that part of the bill.

In these circumstances, as Time reported, the feeling is growing in Congress that the President "need no longer be feared, can often be ignored, occasionally flouted." That is one reason why some of those around the President—reportedly including Vice-President Nixon, who feels deeply that the civil rights fight must be won—believe that the President should intervene, firmly and even dramatically in the battle.

Letter Wanted

It has been proposed to the President, for example, that he should write a letter to Minority Leader William Knowland, outlining in the strongest terms his reasons for opposing a jury trial amendment to the Civil Rights bill. Knowland could then read the letter on the Senate floor, attracting maximum national attention and stamping the President's position firmly as the Republican Party position.

Rough drafts of such a letter have even been made. But it now appears unlikely that the President will adopt this course. Knowland himself reportedly feels that it would smack too much of White House "dictation" to Congress. Even so, a strong and open stand by the President in the fight over the jury trial amendment is still not to be ruled out, if only because of the political realities of the situation.

For the President's apparent reluctance to fight hard for his Civil Rights bill has fitted perfectly into the brilliant strategy of Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson. It was clear to Johnson from the start that the Republican administration's decision to press, for serious civil rights legislation represented a desperate danger to his party. It threatened to split the party irretrievably. And it threatened the very political existence of northern Democrats heavily dependent on the Negro vote.

In the face of this danger, Johnson did what he always does—he sought the common denominator of mutual interest, between the various factions of his party. He found it in weak (or, if you prefer, "moderate") civil rights legislation.

The southerners want a weak bill for obvious reasons. But the northern Democrats also want desperately to be able to charge that the Eisenhower administration has "sold the minorities down the river," as a result of the President's failure to fight hard for his bill. In fact, when the President equivocated on section three, northern Democrats like Neuberger, of Oregon, and Douglas of Illinois, instantly and happily seized on this battle cry.

Reducing Danger

As a result, the danger to the Democrats inherent in Republican advocacy of civil rights legislation is already far less than it was. If the jury trial amendment passes, while the President stands aloof, the immense political advantage which ought to have been gained by the Republicans, as a result of passing the first civil rights legislation since reconstruction days, will largely evaporate. But if the President intervenes openly and strongly, making the jury trial fight a party line issue, the Republicans will score a decisive political gain, even if the fight is lost.

Such, at least, is the reasoning of those who favor firm and immediate personal intervention by the President in the civil rights struggle. It is hard to see a flaw in their reasoning. But the odds are probably against the President injecting himself forcefully into the fight all the same. For he is a man with an instinct for remaining above the battle, and a tendency, unfortunately in a politician, to see both sides of every question.

THE GRAND ALLIANCE

Last year's crisis over the Suez Canal and the Middle East caused a great strain between the U.S. and its allies, England and France. We asked the question: do you think it essential that we get this alliance fixed up, or merely desirable, or do you think it really doesn't matter whether we get it fixed up or not?

Essential we get alliance fixed up.....66%
Not essential, but desirable.....18%

Old Horses Better Off?

In the Times of July 18, "Pensioner" sees nothing wrong with the all-for-exploitation-as-per-usual CCF party receiving large sums of money from labor organizations for their election campaigns. The objections voiced here were apparently insufficient to impress him.

"Pensioner" ought to be reminded that the CCF along with all the other parties but one, support the social organization that can morally justify and then carry out the act of dropping atom bombs upon hundreds of thousands of defenceless men, women and children (Hiroshima and Nagasaki), the system that sees nothing wrong with "Pensioner" converting his whole useful lifetime, generally speaking, into labor time, finally leaving him with little more than the monthly tokens known as old age pensions.

Allowing for the difference in productivity and other differences, this is considerably less than what an old horse used to get when its usefulness ended and it was turned out to pasture.

Socialist parties never consciously accept money from individuals or groups who do not understand or want Socialism. Neither do they welcome their votes. The workers' understanding is welcomed first.

Business Tax

Regarding the city's business tax and the council's decision that it should be based on rental costs: A suggestion was advanced by someone during discussion that the tax should be based on the number of employees in the business or service.

The rentals basis may be, or may not be, a fair one. I don't know. Where it is a family-employed concern, that is another matter. But if family members only were employed a basis could be worked out on the number working.

'In All Fairness'

One cannot help but feel deep sympathy for the parents of the boy who was killed, also the others who sustained serious injuries in the tragic accident Friday morning.

At this time it is not my desire to rub salt in open wounds, but in all fairness, one cannot blame the police for the mishap. They were simply doing their duty at great personal risk.

But for skillful driving there could have been a double tragedy. Policemen have wives and children who can suffer heartbreak also.

It seems to be a human failing to blame others for our own shortcomings, but it solves nothing.

That nasty word "Chicken" coupled with bad companions will make the most timid boy do acts of vandalism and destruction which he knows in his heart are wrong.

When, oh when, will they learn that it takes more real courage to say "No" than to say yes and suffer the terrible consequences.

Rebuttal on Fluoridation

Reference the statement of Statistician Dr. Louis Israel Dublin, July 27, on fluoridation. There is a strong argument to the contrary on pp. 151-153 of Mercury Magazine for July that makes news, of which the following is an excerpt:

"When the Soviet scientist, Lysenko, backed by his government announced proof of hereditary transmission of acquired characteristics, the peoples of the West smirked, and felt superior. Surely their democratic governments would never stoop to juggling scientific data, concealing experimental evidence and outright fabrication in order to justify a 'party line' on a law of nature. Yet with the growth of our welfare socialist state, this has now happened in the United States.

"In their book 'The American Fluoridation Experiment' two doctors reveal the incredible and shocking story of how a governmental agency (The Public Health Service) is subjecting 28 million Americans to the dangerous experiment of using artificially fluoridated water supplies."

"James Rorty, known as a careful scientific journalist, in his preface to this book by M.D.s. F. B. Exner and G. L. Waldbott, writes:

"This is the first time that the official sponsors of a public-health measure have been censured, intimidated and regimented the interested health professions. It is the first time that public health officials have deliberately falsified, distorted and suppressed scientific evidence tending to impugn the safety of a public health measure. It is the first time that the sponsors of such a program have systematically slandered its professional aid lay critics and opponents."

Then follows some cogent suggestions of shady methods used to propagate fluoridation, and a lengthy list of medical reasons (which no unbiased doctor would refute) as to why fluoridation should be rejected.

Remember Free Coffee?

In your edition of July 29, Mr. Ted Brand, of Brand's Restaurant, is exaggerating when he says that "We have been selling coffee for 10 cents for 17 years now." I came here in 1943 and for years after that I could get a cup of coffee anywhere in Victoria for five cents. Furthermore 17 years bring us back to 1940, at that time we were getting a cup of coffee free with meals.

Let's hope that the majority of restaurants will have the common sense to keep coffee at 10 cents per cup.

Fiddling

One wonders when the end will be to the insatiable greed, selfishness and outrageous demands (not requests) of the so-called workers of today. The waves of strikes, or threatened strikes, have become a habit, and have spread from the one-time laborers to all classes, men and women alike.

We can no longer depend upon the loyalty of our Civil Service to carry on the essential services of the nation, our municipal employees are tarred with the same brush, and now the most regrettable example of all (the recent callous ultimatum of the Registered Nurses) has reared its ugly head amongst us.

Has the tradition of Florence Nightingale been cast aside for ever? Have our nurses adopted the false doctrine—"the survival of the fittest?"

Have we no men with the courage and backbone to put the nation's well-being before party? Or have we become (with our soft way of living) effete, spineless and decadent?

Great Britain, France and the United States are all toying with the question of "control of prices and wages," but we, in Canada, have not even got to that stage yet—we are fiddling while Rome is burning.

Mark my words, Mr. Editor, unless a halt is soon called to the present suicidal course of lack of restraint in all walks of life, and in our economy sphere in particular, we will have to cease fiddling and face a situation which will call for courage, fortitude and true patriotism.

The Smell of Printer's Ink

By JOHN HULTENG in Nieman Reports

IT is time to think about reglamorizing the newspaper business.

A couple of decades ago, there was a debunking job to be done. Hollywood and the novelists had created grotesque stereotypes of newsmen: the dashing foreign correspondent, saving thrones and wars singlehandedly; the hard-mouthed police reporter, solving crimes between slugs of bourbon, hat glued to his head; the flashing-eyed crusader, ever fearless and imperious in the public interest—until some moneybags advertiser bought him off.

Responsible newspapermen devoted a lot of energy and time to the task of uprooting these stereotypes in the public mind. They bore down particularly hard on the glamor aspect.

But now it is apparent that the job was done too well. The starry-eyed kids have been scared off too far. In erasing the stereotypes, we have also depreciated some of the legitimate glamor of the newspaper business. And as a result we are failing to attract into the business some of the young blood that has always been and should always continue to be an essential force in journalism.

Education Essential

Increasingly, small dailies are obliged to take on inexperienced help from the ranks of high-school graduates, because no one else is available. And anyone without a college education or its equivalent simply isn't equipped to do a competent job of reporting the news in this era of incendiary social tensions, and of vastly complex citizen-government relationships in our own nation and local communities.

But it isn't the quantitative shortages in news staff that are most disturbing. There are grave qualitative causes for alarm.

There are, thank God, still some who go into newspaper work with a sense of excitement and lively eagerness, who see more than a job. But the point is we aren't getting enough of the good ones.

That's why it is time to think about reglamorizing the newspaper business.

Obviously, we don't want to revive the stereotypes. What we need to do is restore an honest perspective.

There is plenty of genuine glamor in journalism. The job of those of us concerned with the business is to bring the pendulum back to realistic centre, now that it has swung from one extreme to the other.

The challenge of newspaper work today is dramatic and profound. The overwhelming majority of Americans learn all they know about what is going on in the nation and the world through their reading of the daily newspaper.

The newsmagazines do a part of this job of informing; radio and television newscasts and backgrounders do a much less significant part of it. But the backbone source of news remains the daily newspaper.

The power that rests in the hands of reporters is enormous. The responsibility that must accompany that power is staggering. There is glamor in wielding such power in the public interest—real glamor, not tinsel.

Urge to Create

Every man born of woman is equipped from the start with an urge to create. Some men find ways to satisfy that urge in the work they do, some in the hobbies they follow, some in the shaping of children's personalities within the family circle. But one of the most immediately gratifying ways to satisfy the universal creative urge is through newspaper writing. Your words, written at high pitch, reproduced minutes later in thousands of copies and sent to every home in the city to inform and influence—this is glamor, this is a rich ego-satisfaction peculiar to newspaper work.

There is no need to deal in improbable stereotypes. There is honest glamor in newspaper work, and if we can make that fact clear we can win back to newspapers some of the imaginative, energetic minds we have been missing out on in recent years.

Salaries are a factor in this; there's no blinking that. On a competitive basis, newspaper work is way down the list of occupations. But even if salaries were boosted a good deal we wouldn't be sure of getting the men of high purpose who come to do more than a job. It is the nature of the business that will lure them—as it has lured their like throughout the history of journalism. The problem is to disclose the true nature of the business, without falsely exaggerating on the one hand or unduly depreciating on the other.

Canada—Honest Broker

NEW YORK—The business of Canadians making speeches abroad, and especially in the United States, is now sufficiently well along that one could almost write a definite work on the subject, a guidebook to the stock phrases and the family jokes that fall most sweetly from Canadian lips.

No doubt members of the present government will be making speeches outside Canada's borders as frequently as did their cabinet predecessors, but perhaps the outgoing ministers took all the copies of their speeches from the office files. It would be a pity for anybody to have to start from scratch along so well-worn a path, so for what they are worth we submit a few observations on the subject of Canadian utterances in foreign lands.

The classic paragraph for Canadian speeches, whether in the United Kingdom or the United States, is this: "Because we live in such close association with Britain and the United States, and because we understand each of them I think perhaps better than they sometimes understand each other, Canada is today the interpreter of the United States to Britain and of Britain to the United States. Canada is in the position to act in the role of honest broker because our affection for both of your countries is so deep and abiding."

A CERTAIN HIT

This seldom misses, even though there is reason to believe that Canadians flatter themselves in speaking this way, and that Britain and the United States understand one another perfectly well, without benefit of Canadian brokerage.

The paragraph might be followed by: "I think I can speak for every right-thinking Canadian when I say how deeply we are convinced that the preservation of the worthwhile things in the world depends upon the continued close co-operation of Britain and the United States, and the strengthening of the bonds of mutual trust and sympathy which have in days gone by bound them together in the championship of human freedom."

Then the speaker might toss in some sporting references, if he knows his stuff sufficiently well. The past-master of this in U.S. speeches was that well-known baseball fan and former football coach, Mr. Lester B.

Pearson, who could set American audiences up with some inside baseball or football lore, and then stick a pin in them about some U.S. antic that Canadians were finding irksome.

One of Mr. Pearson's most successful turns in the "broker" role came during the last session of the UN General Assembly, when he gave a private party for the Commonwealth—past, present and future. He invited, in addition to statesmen from the Commonwealth nations, representatives from Scotland, Ireland and the United States, and left it to them to find their own slots within the terms of the invitation. It made for a merry evening.

LOW RESISTANCE

In the matter of Jokes, we could not do better than quote from a speech given before the American Bar Association here in July by the president of the Canadian Bar Association, Mr. E. C. Leslie. Mr. Leslie subsequently addressed the members of the American Bar to London. He was in rare form here, and in fact the "classic paragraphs" quoted earlier were taken from his speech. His quips, which brought roars of merriment from his American colleagues here, can stand as models for Canadian speech writers: "I feel a good deal of sympathy with your revolutionary ancestors. They resisted all attempts by England to impose taxes upon them with a bold and resolute spirit. But I do feel that your ancestors of revolutionary days might well think that the flame of resistance to taxation has burned low in their descendants."

It appears to me that it was no great hardship for the Americans of revolutionary days to start their revolution by upsetting a shipment of tea. Had it been coffee or bourbon that was lying in Boston Harbor, I feel there may be some justification for the belief that Canada and the United States might still be one nation. Sometimes when I go to some of the restaurants in the United States I feel that the tea has been ordered from the wreckage of the cargo which was upset so long ago in Boston.

"We in Canada despair of annexing the United States because we are convinced that Texas would never consent to become the fourth largest province or state in this new confederation. The Province of Saskatchewan in which I have lived for many years is larger than Texas—it has indeed been said that the only difference between the Province of Saskatchewan and the State of Texas is that in Saskatchewan are more loyal to the United States."

LONDON LETTER

By WALLACE REYBURN

Almost Perfect Crime

LONDON—If he hadn't overlooked one little detail, the murder he committed would probably have been what he set out to do—a perfect crime.

Vilis was a Latvian living in the London suburb of Holloway. For 18 months he had been engaged to Kitty, a girl from his own country.

Another Latvian named Janis met Kitty and she began to switch her affections to him.

Wildly jealous, Vilis decided to take his rival's life. But it was not to be a murder in the heat of anger. He would work it out methodically. It would be a perfect crime.

He planned it all down to the last detail and the first step in putting his plan into operation was to telephone his dentist and make an appointment to have several teeth filled.

On the day of his dental appointment he lured Janis to his house in Holloway, and in the garage struck him down with a blow on the head which killed him. He put the body in the trunk of his car and drove off to the dentist.

He spent an hour and a half in the dentist's waiting room and in the surgery—that was his alibi.

Returning to his car he drove out of London to a lonely country road in Kent, where he took Janis' body out of the back of the car and laid it on the roadway. He then drove on a short distance, turned his car around and drove it over the prostrate body. He prided himself that he had thought of every detail that would make it look as though Janis had been the victim of a hit-and-run motorist.

When he had murdered Janis in the garage he had not been wearing the hat and raincoat he had been wearing on arrival at the house.

Vilis had remembered to bring these along with the body and put the coat on and laid the hat by the side of the road. There was rain in the air and to have left the body on the road without a raincoat would have been a certain give-away that Janis had not been out for a walk there.

After a final check-up that the supposed fatal road accident looked absolutely genuine, Vilis left the scene and drove back to London.

Then there happened something quite outside his planning. So much so that at the time he completely overlooked it as a tiny detail that was enough to bring him to justice. It started to rain and for hours it rained heavily.

When Janis' body was found and the police were brought, one of them was quick to notice the damning piece of evidence—the front of Janis' raincoat was soaked from the rain, but the back was dry. If Janis had been walking along the road on that rainy day, why wasn't the back of his coat wet?

This set the police thinking in terms of foul play. The true story of Vilis' almost perfect crime was unearthed and it sent him not to the gallows under Britain's new capital punishment laws but to prison for life.

SYNOPSIS—The mass of cool moist air which Tuesday caused frequent showers over the central B.C. coast, was moving slowly eastward into the interior this morning. As a result it appears that the south coast can look for a fair amount of sunshine in the next two days while decreasing shower activity is expected on the north coast.

In the interior rather frequent shower or thunderstorm activity is expected particularly in northern parts. Temperatures will remain fairly cool for the time of year though readings into the eighties in the southern interior are expected Thursday.

Enjoy Gardens Now Autumn Approaches

Now that the English skylark has at last ceased his daily songs from high above the nearby field, and the first of the rich juicy blackberries have been tasted, we must consider our gardening from a new viewpoint.

The approach of the fall season is like middle age—we fill our days chock full for fear we shall never attain all our goals!

At this time of year our gardens are in overabundance and we must take advantage of this abundance now, so that in the shorter, duller days of winter we may recall the joy of summer sun on our faces.

I have just spent a pleasant hour cutting the cooking herbs for drying. The perennial sage and thyme rushed into bloom early this year, in May I believe. Cutting them back a little after that outburst, has now produced plenty of stems for gathering. Each kind is put loosely into a separate paper bag together with its name.

After hanging in a warm airy shed to dry thoroughly, the stems are sometimes unrecognizable, even though each aroma is distinct when familiar.

The annual herbs have been gathered also, sweet basil, summer savory and sweet marjoram being the only ones grown this year.

New young side shoots will soon appear on these plants. Don't forget to use these while green, chopped into the potato, egg or plain green salad. Also used fresh, they add delightful flavor to meat loaves of all kinds, and, of course, stews and soups when the cooler days come.

Facilities for Nurses Hit at Nfld. Hearing

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—The superintendent of Newfoundland's training centre for nurses, testifying before a royal commission investigating the province's finances, told Tuesday of conditions which deter nurses from remaining there.

Because of the lack of adequate facilities, said Dr. Edward Wilson, superintendent of St. John's

General Hospital, prospective nurses go to the mainland for training.

And with the higher wage scale there, they stay, he added. For the same reason it was difficult to attract trained nurses from the mainland to Newfoundland.

The provincial budget provided for the training of 170 nurses at the general hospital but the total number actually taking classes was 104.

CONDITIONS REPULSIVE

"When prospective students see the conditions under which they must live in training, it can deter them," Dr. Wilson said.

"They have no privacy whatsoever, and they have no place to study. The students doing night duty must sleep in the same quarters as those on other shifts. They can't get their proper rest like that. What we need is a nurses' home with 215 beds."

Provincial Deputy Health Minister Dr. Leonard Miller told the commission—to which the province presented a 633-page brief reviewing the province's status since Confederation in 1949 and its needs for the future—that Newfoundland needs more than $35,000,000 to raise her health services to an acceptable standard.

Commission hearings opened July 22 under Chief Justice John B. McNair of the New Brunswick Supreme Court.

Davis is a 41-year-old veteran of five terms in the U.S. House of Representatives where he supported some of Eisenhower's domestic program but opposed the administration on foreign aid and foreign policy in general.

Kohler will be opposed in the general election Aug. 27 by William Proxmire, whom he beat twice previously in elections for governor.

WALTER J. KOHLER JR., three-time governor of the state, edged out former representative Glenn R. Davis in a finish decided by the last vote counting in metropolitan Milwaukee precincts.

Kohler, 57, was alone in the seven-man Republican field in his support of the president. TODAY'S GRAIN PRICES

WINNIPEG

WINNIPEG (CP)—Considerable activity appeared in all grain today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange in connection with the closing out of July contracts. Activity in flax also prompted by increased farm deliveries, and in other grains by a lack of adequate rains in the grain-growing belt.

There was no new overseas business in Canadian coarse grains.

Flax had liberal hedging sales with buying from international interests and American houses. Prices were irregular.

Oats had a few domestic orders and barley showed some American support. Rye trade was erratic and thin.

There were no reports of overnight export loadings of Canadian wheat.

Lakehead prices for class two, TWA and domestic wheat were all unchanged from Tuesday.

Firms Indignantly Rebut Charges of Smoke Nuisance

Victoria firms reacted indignantly today at being singled out by city smoke inspector Thomas W. H. Walker as top offenders under the city's smoke nuisance by-law.

In a report to the city public works committee Monday night, Mr. Walker named a number of leading firms, including B.C. Forest Products and leading city laundries.

Aussies to Keep Immigrant Flow At High Level

COLOGNE, Germany (BUP)—Australia will not follow Canada's lead in holding down the number of European immigrants for the remainder of this year, the Australian immigration chief in Germany said today.

Denis Winterbottom, chief of the Australian immigration bureau here, said Australia might even profit by the Canadian move since it would turn more emigrating Germans down under.

German settlers, he said, have been one of the most successful sides of the immigration program.

Some 53,000 Germans, 34,000 of them on assisted passages, have gone to Australia since the war.

The committee then agreed to support a crackdown on businesses that continue to break the smoke nuisance by-law.

B.C. Forest Products submitted a memorandum to the committee saying it has spent more than $50,000 on the reduction of smoke discharge from its Victoria plants.

All the laundry firms named on Mr. Walker's list insist they have done everything possible to reduce smoke caused by furnaces burning waste fuel. They state that a sudden swing over to oil or gas furnaces would put them out of business.

"These things have to develop gradually, they cannot be accomplished overnight," commented Sam Swetnam, manager of the Economy Steam Laundry.

"There is actually considerably less smoke in Victoria today than there was 20 years ago and the nuisance caused by laundries is small by comparison with other waste burners in the city."

Other laundrymen pointed out that smoke nuisance in Victoria is considerably less than in other North American cities of comparable size.

Nanaimo and New Westminster were mentioned as leading examples.

One laundryman said he had made inquiries as to the cost of installing a gas or oil furnace and found the minimum would be about $30,000.

A spokesman for McLennan,

McFeely and Prior Ltd.—another firm mentioned on the "top offenders" list—said: "Everything possible has been done in the way of efficient firing to reduce the smoke from our coal furnace. I am amazed we should be singled out for criticism."

A spokesman for the T. Eaton Co. declined comment pending an investigation of complaints made by the city smoke inspector.

ACTRESS SLASHES WRISTS

NEW YORK (AP)—Hope Holiday, 25-year-old actress, slashed both her wrists with a razor blade in her Manhattan apartment today, police said. She was reported in good condition at hospital.

Five Miners Killed

MADRID (Reuters)—Five miners were killed and one was severely injured by a fire and explosion in the Ocejia coal mine at Herrera, Leon province.

Traffic Changes in September

Changes to the Hillside-Doug plan on north Douglas and Government circles will be made as soon as lights for the intersection arrived in September, city public works committee Tuesday.

The engineer said he planned lights for the least inconvenience to the public, he said. City council last week approved on a trial basis the one-way traffic plan to circumvent traffic bottlenecks now occurring in rush hours.

Mr. Garnett said the only way the scheme could be tried out was to set up the plan on a permanent basis.

"What it boils down to is you put it in on a permanent basis and then you tear it out if it is not satisfactory," he said. "It would cost you a good percentage of the money for the project to put it on any basis."

Mr. Garnett said the only way the scheme could be tried out was to set up the plan on a permanent basis.

200 Canadians in Naples Supply Needs of UN Force

By DAVID OANCA
Canadian Press Staff Writer
NAPLES, Italy (CP)—Supplying the needs of the United Nations Emergency Force stationed in the Egyptian desert is a seven-day-a-week job for more than 200 Canadian airmen and soldiers stationed here.

But the men on whom most of this responsibility falls have reduced the complex jumble of problems created by the sudden birth of the international contingent to relatively manageable proportions. "Things aren't quite as hectic as they used to be," says Capt. Harold Thwaite, the Canadian movement control officer stationed in this southern Italian city. He supervises the movement of supplies and personnel from this UNEF supply and transport base to the Middle East encampments. Thwaite has been connected with the force almost since the decision on Canada's participation was made. He supervised the loading of the aircraft carrier Magnificent before the Canadian warship sailed for Egypt with the administrative troops needed there. Then he flew to Naples, where he has since served.

STEADY FLIGHTS

"In the early stages of the force, as many as four or five planes took off each day to move and supply the small force."

Aircraft were chartered to supplement the four C-119 Flying Boxcars supplied to the force by Canada. Now that the big job of establishing the force is completed, the day-to-day air transport task falls on the four Canadian planes bearing the United Nations insignia and the RCAF crews manning them.

Every other day the crews climb into the oven-hot cockpits and fly the route across the toe of Italy and the Mediterranean Sea to Egypt. At present they carry no arms, but expectations are the UN will authorize provision of weapons for use, if needed, after emergency landings.

The Canadians bring a wealth of global experience to the job. FO Dave Saunders of St. John's, Nfld., and Toronto logged almost 120 hours flying over three continents in late October and early November, when the UNEF was formed.

QUICK ORDER

He was on his way home from Germany when he received orders early in November to climb into an aircraft bound for Naples. He didn't make it home and for two months got by on clothing thrown into a handbag for a "quick trip" to Germany.

FO Graham Pearson of Montreal earlier this year piloted the plane carrying supplies into the Arctic for International Geophysical Year parties studying the Canadian north.

The crews find the Middle East supply run a relatively simple operation calling for "straight and level" flying over water. To maintain flying proficiency over all kinds of terrain, they make periodic training flights across populated areas, including northern Europe.

A rather unusual flight was made over strange territory to take home the body of a Yugoslav soldier, killed when his jeep struck a land mine in Egypt.

The aircraft flew along the internationally established air routes across Greece to the Yugoslav border, in touch all the time with Greek airport control towers. When the plane crossed the border, the Greek controller gave a weather report and then tersely said "good day."

While the Canadian crew was climbing in the direction of the trying to make radio contact with Canadian plane, circled and Belgrade Airport, they saw four landed. The Canadians continued fighter planes take off from a their journey unescorted.

At Belgrade, high-ranking Yugoslav military and air force officers welcomed the crew. The Yugoslavs and almost at once the fliers welcomed the crew. The an RCAF plane had flown into fighter planes, which had been Canadians were given a lavish Yugoslav.

steak dinner by the Yugoslav government and were taken on a tour of the city while their plane was being serviced for the return trip. Then, after many smiles and handshakes, the crew boarded the aircraft and headed back to Naples to continue the regular job of UNEF transport. The flight marked the first time since the end of the Second World War that an RCAF plane had flown into Yugoslavia.

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Mary Leona Gage Ennis, Maryland's "Miss United States" who turned out to be a Mrs., has been sued for $100,000 by the Baltimore modelling agency that sponsored her. The suit against the mother of two was filed Tuesday by Laureen Walter of the Walters Academy.

CPR Lineman Electrocuted

REVELSTOKE, B.C. (CP)—A CPR lineman was killed late Tuesday less than four hours after returning to work from a years absence.

John William Barnes, 37, was electrocuted when he touched power lines in the east end of Revelstoke while rigging a light for an emergency crew. The city electrical and fire departments were called to help bring the body down from the pole.

Barnes was employed by the CPR communications department. He left his job last year and rejoined the service Tuesday afternoon.

He is survived by his wife and three children.

Afghan Ruler Ends Visit to Soviet Union

LONDON (AP)—King Mohammed Zahir Shah of Afghanistan flew home from Moscow today in a Soviet jet airliner after a two-week state visit to the Soviet Union. It ended with the signing of a joint communique in which the Kremlin agreed to provide Afghanistan with technical and financial help in prospecting its oil resources.

—a new Churchill or another Eden?

What is Great Britain's new Prime Minister really like? Is he anti-American? What is his attitude toward the rest of the Commonwealth? Can he lead his country back to its former stature as a major power, or is he just another milestone on the way to ruin?

In this week's Saturday Evening Post, editor James P. O'Donnell reports on England's new leader, and tells you how his administration should differ from, or resemble, that of his predecessors, Anthony Eden and Winston Churchill.

And you'll find out about Macmillan the man—and the unusual background that molded and developed his point of view!

Don't miss the penetrating article "Can He Bail Out Britain?" in this week's Post.

They Fought the Nazis Over Icebound Greenland Secrets of the Unknown War

Beginning a remarkable literary achievement—the never-before-told account of a handful of brave men pitted in desperate combat across one of the most desolate regions on earth.

In this week's Saturday Evening Post, you'll read how seven men, armed only with hunting rifles, undertook to protect 400 miles of Greenland coastline from German invasion. You'll learn why, in this desolate land where violent death often came from harsh elements of nature, the idea of intentional killing was incredible! You'll find out how these few men carried out their almost impossible assignment and how they were actually helped by Nazi ideology and a Gestapo plot!

HOW ABOUT THE AIR ITSELF?

Experts Say Everything Will Be Air-Conditioned

NEW YORK (UP)—Some day man may wear air-conditioned clothes, walk on air-conditioned sidewalks and watch sports events in air-conditioned stadiums.

These are just a few of the things that the crystal ball gazers in the air-conditioning industry say are in the offing.

By the year 2,000, industry spokesmen add, man may control his climate by the flick of a switch or the turn of a dial. J. W. Alsford, president of Mitchell Manufacturing Co. of Chicago, says "Within the next 45 years, if research and engineering continue at their present pace, we may well have taken a step toward changing everybody's way of living."

CRYSTAL BALL

"Altogether all we can do is look into a crystal ball today, none of these dreams is beyond the realm of possibility."

Webster Joins Scottish Video As Newscaster

EDINBURGH (CP)—Radio commentator Jack (Jock) Webster, whose pungent comments on the news spoken in a thick Scots burr made his name a household word in British Columbia, has joined Scottish television as a newscaster.

Webster emigrated to Canada in 1947 after working on Glasgow newspapers. He was city editor of the Vancouver Sun for a time before joining the staff of radio station CJOR in Vancouver.

Last year he received the Columbus Award from Ohio State University for his reporting of an investigation held into allegations of corruption in the Vancouver city police force.

Scottish television is owned by Canadian publisher Roy Thomson.

Thrill Slayer Stays in Jail

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Thrill slayer Nathan Leopold has lost his bid for an unconditional release from Stateville prison where he has served 33 years of an 85-year sentence but he plans a new plea to win a parole.

Governor William G. Stratton Tuesday denied clemency to the 32-year-old convicted killer of Bobby Franks, 14, dashing any immediate hopes Leopold had of being freed early in December.

Leopold had asked for commutation of the 85-year-old sentence to 64 years. If the sentence had been reduced he would have been eligible for release without supervision after serving half his sentence, 32 years, plus 15 months.

VICTIMS IDENTIFIED

CLINTON—Two Portuguese immigrants who were killed last week in a 200-foot fall when they leaped from a railway trestle to escape an approaching train have been identified here. RCMP said the men were Manuel Alves Oliveira, 49, and Manuel Dos Reis de Oliveira, 42.

Alsford says the only danger in making predictions such as these "is that, more often than not, they are too conservative."

Plenty of attention is given Rosy McLellan as he passes on few pitching tips to members of four Little League teams who will participate in Greater Victoria district playoffs, which start Friday. Rosy,

SANDOWN PARK MEETING EXTENDED TO 14 DAYS

Harry Filion, spokesman for the Ascot Jockey Club, said Tuesday night that Vancouver Island's racing season will run for 14 days this year.

The races, to be held at Sandown Park in Sidney, will start Saturday, Sept. 14, and will probably end Monday, Oct. 7. It was originally announced that the island meet would consist of only one 10-day meeting.

Plans must be finalized, Filion said, but it is expected that races will be staged on Mondays, Wednesdays, Fridays and Saturdays.

Little Leaguers Set for Playoff

Vancouver Island Little Leaguers are ready to seek out their best representative to send into the provincial championships and a possible berth in the regional playoffs at Port Orchard, Wash.

The firing opens at Jaycee Park, on Hillside Avenue, Friday and winds up Sunday, with six teams competing for the Island title.

Four of the entries are from Victoria, representing each league more than one year old, and two are from Up-Island, Lake Cowichan and Duncan.

The Victoria teams will be made up of all-star clubs from the National League, the American League, the Hampton League and the Esquimalt-Victoria West League.

Defending Island champions are the National Little League and it will be their purpose to carry the colors in the provincial playoffs for a second season in a row, August 9 and 10.

Opening game of the tournament will be played at 2:30 p.m. Friday with Lake Little League (Cowichan) running up against the defending champions and Cowichan Little League (Duncan) playing the Americans at 6 p.m.

First game will go Saturday at 1 p.m. with the second of the day immediately after and the final games will be on the same schedule Sunday.

Following are the all-star teams that will represent Victoria in the Island playoffs.

Donovan Warms Ike, Sox With Hot Mound Effort

Pitches Three-Hit Win; Yankees Drub Athletics

By The United Press

President Eisenhower picked a fine night to watch a ball game and he wound up joining in the praise of the "hottest" pitcher in the majors at the moment—Dick Donovan of the Chicago White Sox.

The president, making his first mid-season appearance at a baseball game Tuesday night since last Aug. 31, commented appreciatively to aides on Donovan's brilliant three-hit pitching as the White Sox right-hander beat the Senators, 7-1, at Washington.

Donovan, who didn't walk a batter in breezing to his 11th victory, has given up a total of eight hits in his last three games. His two previous efforts were a one-hitter against the Red Sox on July 20 and a four-hitter against the Yankees last Thursday.

Not only did the president witness some fine pitching, but also some long ball clouting as Larry Doby and Minnie Minoso each walloped a pair of homers to keep the White Sox within three games of first place. Roy Sievers, who collected two of Washington's hits, also homered.

In other American League games, the Yankees helped Casey Stengel celebrate his birthday with a 10-4 victory over the Athletics; Boston blanked Detroit, 4-0, and Cleveland licked Baltimore, 6-0.

The Milwaukee Braves slung to their half-game lead in the National League race with a 5-2 decision over the Pirates; the Cardinals topped the Giants, 7-3; Philadelphia defeated Cincinnati, 8-5, and the Cubs split a doubleheader with the Dodgers, Brooklyn winning the opener, 1-0, and Chicago the nightcap, 4-3.

Yogi's Four Hits Help Whitey Hold On

Yogi Berra drove in four runs with four hits, including a homer, to pace a 16-hit attack that gave the Yankees their 14th victory in 15 meetings with Kansas City this season. Southpaw Whitey Ford wasn't nearly as hot, giving up 13 hits, including a homer by Billy Martin, but he hung in there for the distance to post his sixth triumph.

Bob Porterfield of the Red Sox turned back the Tigers on four hits while Jackie Jensen drove in three of Boston's four runs with a homer and a single. Ted Williams rapped out three hits to boost his batting average to .384. Frank Lary suffered his seventh straight loss and 14th of the year.

Right-hander John Gray, recalled from San Diego of the Pacific Coast League, pitched a three-hitter for Cleveland in extending Baltimore's string of scoreless innings to 23. The Indians got to Billy Loes for a run in the first inning on singles by Al Smith, Gene Woodling and Vic Wertz, then rallied for their last five runs in the ninth.

The Braves scored their first three runs with the aid of two Pirate errors and a passed ball, and Lew Burdette then coasted to his ninth victory with a five-hitter. Burdette yielded a first inning homer to Gene Freese and Pittsburgh couldn't score again until the eighth. Johnny Logan drove in two of Milwaukee's runs.

Pinch hitter Joe Cunningham smashed a grand-slam home run off Ruben Gomez in the ninth to snap a 3-3 tie and give the Cards a victory that kept them within a half game of Milwaukee. Larry Jackson registered his 12th victory after relieving Lindy McDaniel in the ninth when the Giants threat-

Ron Likes Fit of Phillies' Uniform

Thirty-eight-year-old Ron Northey, back in a Phillies' uniform for the first time in 10 years, delivered a pinch two-run homer in the eighth inning off Hershey Freeman and that was the blow that beat Cincinnati. Home runs by Frank Robinson, Smoky Burgess and Don Hoak helped the Redlegs to a 5-3 lead but Stan Lopata led off the eighth with a homer. Rip Repulski singled and Northey did the rest. The Phils added two runs in the ninth to insure the victory for reliever Bob Miller.

Puck Plans Revived; Six Teams Proposed

If all goes well during the next few weeks and a few minor problems can be ironed out, intercity amateur hockey will return to Victoria after an absence of a year.

A meeting was held in Nanaimo Monday night in a second attempt to form an intercity intermediate league.

with entries from HMCS Naden, Victoria, Vancouver Pilsners, Vancouver Great Northerns, Powell River and Nanaimo.

Len Temple, of Victoria, was elected chairman to act until a directorate can be formed along the lines of that directing the affairs of the Intercity Lacrosse League with a president, vice-president, three commissioners and a secretary-treasurer.

Powell River is presenting most of the problems at the present time.

The most difficult to overcome is travelling to the paper town with boat transportation hazardous and uncertain during the season.

The other problem is that Powell River wants an unbalanced league while all other teams want to play as many home games as away games.

Tentative plans now call for games to be played in Victoria on Mondays, Kerrisdale Tuesdays, and Nanaimo and Powell River on Saturdays.

Chairman, Ivan Temple, has called a further meeting of the league at Kerrisdale Arena Aug. 13 when all teams are asked to voice their suggestions and recommendations.

SEIXAS DEFEATED HAVERFORD, Pa. (AP)—Australian champion Ashley Cooper wore down U.S. Davis Cup star Vic Seixas Sunday to win the 58th Pennsylvania lawn tennis championships 6-3, 7-9, 6-4, 7-5.

IN ACTION TONIGHT for Nanaimo Timbermen, veterans Fred Fulla (left) and Arnie Dugan are counted on to carry big share of load as Timbermen attempt to move back into second place in Inter-City Lacrosse League by defeating Victoria Shamrocks. Game time at Memorial Arena is 8.30 p.m.

No Time to Fall, As Pils Testify

It's still a neck-and-neck duel down the stretch, but the stumble suffered by an also-ran was the feature of Tuesday evening's news on the Intercity Lacrosse League race.

Vancouver Pilseners, jostled roughly by New Westminster, will not be able to recover from Tuesday's fall, which, for the records, turned out to be a 16-6 decision for the Salmonbellies.

So the Pils are out and (well, well... look here!) Jake Proctor's Salmonbellies are in. That was a timely and important victory for New Westminster, last year's occupants of the cellar seats.

ONLY PIERCE, WYNN EXPECTED TO REPEAT

Exclusive Club Losing Members

By JACK CUDDY

NEW YORK (UPI)—Seven of the nine pitchers who scored 20 victories in 1956 are faced today with the virtual certainty that they will lose their membership in the exclusive club this year.

Southpaw Billy Pierce, of the Chicago White Sox, and durable right-hander Early Wynn, of the Cleveland Indians are the only two who figure to repeat and actually only Pierce has pitched as well as he did last year.

Wynn, forced into heavy duty because of injuries to Herb Score and Bob Lemon, has a 13-11 record but his earned run average is around 4.00. Pierce, who finished last season with a 20-9 mark, has a 15-7 record and should have little trouble cracking the 20 circle. In fact, Billy is likely

OUTDOOR REPORT BY Doug Peden

In another month we'll be starting on another shooting season. And in two months we'll have another crop of disillusioned shotguns.

Every year brings a new crop of prospective hunters, who buy shotguns and set out to put some grouse, pheasants or ducks on the table. Far too many hunt only a few times, or perhaps a season or two, then quit in disgust.

Why? Simply because there is no sure and easy way to down a bird except by hitting him with a charge of shot. Enough misses on easy chances and, perhaps, some razzing from their companions and many go back to fishing or rifle hunting, wondering why they couldn't learn to hit consistently with a shotgun.

Unfortunately, many of them handicap themselves before they ever tote a gun into the field by buying a weapon that doesn't fit. Of the ones who start with the right gun, a good number cut down their chances by neglecting to learn what to expect from the firearm or by refusing to practice until they acquire that all-important asset—confidence.

Selecting a shotgun that may last for a lifetime of shooting shouldn't be a hit-and-miss proposition. The size of the user should be considered in selection of any scattergun.

While I use a side-by-side double, it is probably only because I learned to shoot with that gun. The trend of our new generation of shooters is more and more to pumps and automatics and I believe the single-barrel weapon is easier to swing on a moving target—if it fits.

A small person is handicapped with most pump guns; the reach to the fore-end is too long and the gun usually feels muzzle-heavy. A long barrel makes it even tougher for the little fellow and most women.

For the smaller sportsman, a double or an automatic is a better bet than a pump and he is probably better off with a light model.

Stock Should Be Adjusted to Size

After all, if a standard model suits a six-foot, 200-pounder, how can the same stockpile fit a five-foot, four-inch nimrod?

Yet, the woods will be full of little guys with big guns in a few weeks. Some veterans will cross up the experts and hit everything. Most will be wasting ammunition. We don't all wear the same size clothes, nor should we all shoot guns of similar size.

Assistance of a good gunsmith or experienced shotgunner can be invaluable when selecting your first gun. In any case, stock length should be adjusted to size.

While not conclusive, a good test is to rest the butt of the gun in the crook of your elbow and see if the first finger curls comfortably over the trigger. If it does, leave things alone until you have had plenty of experience.

Then there is the question of stock dimensions, almost always ignored by beginners.

The shotgunner does not aim deliberately at a bird and then pull the trigger. He points in a hurry and sees nothing but the bird and a bit of the gun barrel as it swings into line.

The comb of the stock is actually the gun's "rear sight." Its height governs elevation and its thickness governs lateral alignment. A properly-fitted stock allows you to look easily down the centre of the barrel with only a bit of the muzzle end showing. Without such a stock you are handicapped.

Three Methods of Establishing Lead

Having obtained the "right" gun, how does the beginner go about hitting birds?

There are three distinct methods of establishing lead on a moving target—snap-shooting, the delayed snap and the swing.

In snap-shooting, the gun is thrown to the shoulder pointed where you want to shoot and the trigger pulled at almost the instant the gun hits the shoulder. In the delayed snap, the weapon is thrown up in the same way, but a quick correction is made before firing.

The swing is the most accurate method, but also the slowest and seldom suitable for grouse or pheasant shooting. It involves coming up on the bird, swinging ahead and holding a definite lead until after the gun is discharged.

If I had to choose one method and use it exclusively, I'd select the delayed snap. Any gunner who understands how far to nudge the barrel up, down, left or right to correct his first quick aim, won't have to apologize too often for his misses.

Practice will help give confidence and good habits in positioning a shotgun. Two fellows alternating with a hand trap can do each other more good in a half a dozen sessions than all the chances on game they'll get during a season. And they'll collect more of those chances when the season opens.

One thing no one can tell a beginner is how much to shoot ahead of a bird in order to hit it. That has to come with experience. But if he's using a gun that fits, knows what he's trying to do and is willing to spend some time on practice, he's well on his way to becoming a happy shotgunner.

Smokies Take Crown On 11th Straight Win

Firefighters made it 11 wins Fletcher ninth inning to receive in a row at Heywood Park, Tuesday, and clinched the Senior "B" Softball League championship in the process as they edged runner-up Fletcher, 6-5.

Fletcher would have been tied with the league champions had they won Tuesday's contest. Smokies now open their best-of-three semi-finals Friday night against Brodies.

Sharing the win were pitchers Rod Turner and Bud Legare, who gave up a combined total of eight hits over the route. Stringer to bolster their Legare also survived a two-run

Optimists Take Lead In Playoff

Ray Tillyer threw a two-hitter for Optimists in the first game of their best-of-three Babe Ruth League playoffs against Menzies Fuel Tuesday night to beat the Fuelmen 4-1 at Beacon Hill Park.

It was a tough win for Tillyer as he worked himself in and out of trouble on several occasions while walking 14 and striking out eight to salvage his win.

In the Fairfield Little League, Britannia's hammered Goodyears 10-2 to take the second-half league crown away from the first half defenders. Dave Woodley went all the way on the Britannia mound giving up eight hits for the win.

Wallowing deep in last place in the James Bay Little League, Victoria Sports boosted CBRE into a tighter hold on second place when they dropped a 5-0 decision at Macdonald Park.

Only the score was one-sided as opposing pitchers, Ken James of CBRE and Bob Burrows of Sports, matched four-hitters in a pitching duel.

Half Ways Move Over

Half Way House is having its troubles in the senior A men's softball league.

It was not so long ago that Half Ways were resting comfortably in second place and, while they were out of contention for the league lead, they held the number two spot by a considerable margin. But not any more.

Arrow Furniture continued to make trouble Tuesday as they steamed into a virtual second-place tie the hard way—by beating Half Way, 9-2. Half Way has now played 28 games and won 14, while Arrow Furniture has won 15 of 30 games.

Tuesday it was Don Lyon who gave the Arrows their victory, pitching three-hit ball while his teammates banged nine safeties off Dennis Beaulac and Norm Haskell.

Also contributing to the victory was Art Blinks' two-run double in the first and a bases-empty home-run by Norm Curran in the seventh.

Best Medicine A Hot Putter

By ERNIE FEDORUK

The doctor seemed serious. "If I could putt like that all the time, I'd give up medicine as my means of living."

Dr. George Bigelow's fond admiration of his putter was for a good reason. In the doctor's hands, it was a devastating weapon that turned back Jim Barry, 8 and 7, in their 36-hole playoff for the Victoria Golf Club championship Sunday.

Dr. Bigelow, four up after 18 holes, fired sub-par rounds of 68 and 67 at his opponent. Par at the Oak Bay course is 69.

For good measure, as if the putter wasn't enough, the 48-year-old Dr. Bigelow tossed in an eagle on the 12th—a par-five, 525-yard hole.

It was his second straight victory in the club championship and the seventh since 1946.

Scores were the lowest in the club event in a long time with only one of the five who shot 82 getting into the last qualifying shot.

Other qualifiers were Ron Cosh, Jack Storie, Mel Carlow, Harry Donaldson, Ted Bradshaw, Allan McLeod, Roy Chappell, Eric Barber, Hugh Fletcher, Mike Kolb, Al Senior, John Carlow and J. R. Clark.

In the "B" division, for golfers with handicaps greater than 15, Barry Wade and Ed Deacon each came up with 83s to share medalist honors.

Match play opens next Sunday.

They're still looking for a fourth man to make up B.C. Willingdon Cup team. The last remaining hope for an Island representative fell to the wayside Sunday during a special six-man playoff in Vancouver.

Likeable Laurie Kerr of Colwood, who has been turning in some great rounds prior to Sunday, came in with 74-83 to finish out of the running.

Johnny Johnston and Ron Wiley each came in with 142 is going into overtime. Bert Saxon, a 15-handicapper, captured the 16th and 18th holes to tie the 18-hole final with junior king Bill Wakeham.

They'll meet in another 18-hole round this week to settle claims on the club's handicap championship.

Getting back to Gorge Vale, Donaldson, the club's handicap ruler, came in with a four-over-par 72 despite a nine on a par four hole.

Emil Beauchemin came in with another sad tale during the qualifying rounds... it seems the Island's southpaw champ, who was one of the four to miss cracking the championship bracket, scored an eagle but also wound up with a seven and an eight on his card.

Charley Boswell, defending champion and former University of Alberta football star, retained his international blind golfing title at the weekend... a Canadian, Harold Mitchell of Hamilton, was runner-up... deadline for seasonal membership at Colwood is today... club initiations start Aug. 1... newly-crowned Saskatchewan amateur champion Del Wilson is well known in the hockey world... he's chief western scout for Montreal Canadiens.

Harry Hoffitt, PGA president, said the team was selected by the PGA executive committee on the basis of points earned by the players in various designated tournaments and by other rules of eligibility.

One of these rules requires that members must have played in the last two PGA national tournaments.

The United States won the last match, in 1955, at Palm Springs, Calif., 8-4. The Americans hold a 9-2 edge in the series, which began in 1927.

COLT LEAGUERS FACE TOUGH TUNE-UP TASK

Capital City Colt League All-Stars will face their toughest competition of the season Thursday when they play Victoria Orphans of the Mid-Island Baseball League in an exhibition game at Beacon Hill Park at 6:30 p.m.

The game is in preparation for the Colt Leaguers trip to Richmond, Wash., where they will play a series of three exhibition games against the host team Aug. 10 and 11.

The Richmond trip takes the place of a proposed month-long jaunt to California for the regional playoffs.

Punjab Keeps Rolling; Saanich Clips Vic City

Punjab United, like that Old Man River, just keeps rollin' along.

Punjab, who lead the bantam division of the Greater Victoria Minor Lacrosse Association, haven't lost a game in 19 starts.

Tuesday they picked on Oak Bay, 8-5, at Stevenson Park to increase their point total to 37—a healthy figure in any league.

Meanwhile, runner-up Saanich kept pace with an 8-4 win over Victoria City.

In the midjet division, Oak Bay downed Victoria City 8-0 Monday, but later lost to Saanich Farmers, 11-1.

Also Monday, Butler Bros. juvenile B club trounced Hall & Co. Big Horns, a juvenile A team, in an exhibition game.

Lawn Sport Casts Spell; City Rinks in Spotlight

By IAN SMITH

It's hypnotic, this game of lawn bowling.

Parkgoers see the white-capped crowd congregated by the Beacon Hill clubhouse, and stop for a moment to view the attraction. They watch the balls slithering up the green, twisting toward the smaller white jack.

They see the paths where the countless balls have previously travelled, and the quiet jubilation from a good bowl. They wonder why the balls turn that certain way.

Then after a few minutes, the parkgoers are still there. It's interesting watching those out-of-round balls curving gently down the green to sweep in on their target.

The visitors also notice that they are not the only hypnotized persons, others have also stopped to watch the action. On Tuesday, in the Victoria Lawn Bowling Association's 30th annual tournament, the action was enough to satisfy any spectator.

Victoria lawn bowlers continued to dominate play in the men's divisions, but there were two visiting rinks in the finals of the women's competition.

A women's rink champion was assured when Mrs. J. N. Pringle of Stanley Park was defeated by Mrs. G. C. Sutherland of Dunbar. Also in the final is Mrs. B. Hunter of Vancouver Heights.

Then the players look at each other, and away. They stoop to pick up a ball, turn, and roll another down the grass.

And the spectators, too, look at each other, and away, and notice other things: How some times the balls virtually career and the over-shoot trough receives its fill. Or the balls inch their way down the green, staggering slowly toward their mark.

At each other, and away, and notice other things: How some times the balls virtually career and the over-shoot trough receives its fill. Or the balls inch their way down the green, staggering slowly toward their mark.

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then Ask Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia (Canadian edition) and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to David Raymond, aged nine, of Brockville, Ont., for his question:

What Kind of Animal is the Alpaca?

Alpaca cloth is strong and silky. It comes from a sturdy animal who enjoys life on the slopes of the Andes in Bolivia and southern Peru. We first heard of him way back in 1544. The Spanish Treasurer-General of Peru wrote home about this unusual animal whom he thought was a large sheep. Of course, the Incas of Peru had known the alpaca for hundreds of years. They had used his long silky fleece to make gorgeously dyed blankets.

We know now that the alpaca is not a sheep—not even related to a sheep. He is a member of the dignified Camelidae family, which of course, makes him cousin to the lordly camel. Like any proper camel, the alpaca has two-toed feet with padded soles. He wears a pair of furry, pointed ears and a soft coat of excellent quality. He is a vegetarian and a cud chewer, but unlike his cousin of the deserts, he has no hump. However, you will never catch an alpaca without the typical camel expression of snooty superiority on his face. And, like most of his relatives, he will spit in your face if you happen to offend him.

The alpaca is first cousin to the woolly llama, who also lives in South America. In the past, it seems, the alpaca like the llama was used as a pack animal. That first report of 1544 says that the sheep-like fellow was used to carrying packs of 100 pounds or more and sometimes even a human rider. Nowadays, the lush coated alpaca is considered far too precious for labor of any kind. He is tended with his herd where the sun shines warm on the grassy slopes and the snow capped Andes smile up to the sky.

For a whole year he enjoys a well supplied life of ease. Meanwhile his fleece grows thick and long. At last the silky threads reach a length of two feet and his coat barely clears the ground as he strolls about. It is shearing time. Our handsome black alpaca is driven down the slopes with his herd—some black, some dark brown. The shears go to work and our small camel stands amid a pile of rich alpaca fleece.

For a time he feels like a shorn sheep. But he is soon driven back up the slopes with his friends, new wool begins to grow and in a year he will be ready for another shearing. The fine, shorn fleece is washed, combed and dyed ready for weaving into shiny cloth.

You may wonder how a cousin of the desert camel found his way over the oceans to South America. Actually, it is the desert camel who wandered away. For the camel family got its start in the New World. Millions of years ago, the ancestors of all the camels were natives of North America. Some wandered south and became the llamas, alpacas, guanacos and vicuñas of South America. Some wandered over land bridges to Asia and settled in the Asian and African deserts. What happened to the ancient camels who stayed home in North America, nobody knows.

Andy sends a Hammond's Nature Atlas of America to Diana Fenster, age 13, of San Mateo, California, for her question:

How can you keep algae out of a fish pond?

Several chemicals may be used to keep the water in the pond pure and clean. However, it is a tricky job to get just the right amount into the water. You may lose more fish from being poisoned than from the suffocating algae.

Mother Nature herself has the best recipe for keeping the pond water from clouding up the pond water. She calls in a platoon of her little garbage men and bids them get to work. You can buy these little helpers in the pet store. They will love your fish pond and work day and night to keep it free from algae.

Nature's fishpond garbage men are little water snails. Aside from keeping the water clean, they are fun to watch. A fine helper is the Japanese water snail who bears live babies. The graceful ramshorn water snail and the African paper-shelled snail are also splendid housekeepers. Simply put them in the water and they will know just what to do.

He was surprised to find modern and fairly large buildings at this town at mile 38 of the Alaska Highway.

The only resemblance Fort St. John bears to an English village is in name," he added. "English villages are placid and settled, and you don't see any developments like this."

He said he had been prompted to move to Canada because of the English weather. But he reserved comment on the Fort St. John weather until he goes through "the initiation of a northern winter."

Recalling his trip into the north-west, he said, "to get here I think I travelled by every mechanical means possible, except a bicycle."

"I travelled by train from Toronto to Vancouver, then by boat to Victoria, plane to Prince Rupert, and to conclude the journey we drove here," he said.

Married with a baby daughter, he served with the intelligence corps of the British Army in the Middle East and Europe for 2 1/2 years since the Second World War.

BOY SCOUT ACTIVITIES

By FREEMAN KING

Jubilee Jamboree—From England comes word that the Israeli delegation to the World Jamboree is typical of the international gathering which will be officially opened Thursday.

Within the predominantly Jewish group are an Arab Scout from Jaffa and leaders from Catholic and Greek Orthodox groups.

The same mingling of races and religion will repeat itself throughout the Jamboree, where 35,000 Boy Scouts will celebrate a double jubilee, the 50th anniversary of Scouting and the 100th anniversary of the birth of Scouting's founder, the late Lord Baden-Powell.

For the last two weeks Scouts have been flowing into Britain by plane and boat from 85 nations around the world.

Eastern Europe, Russia and Communist China are the only large areas not represented. Scouting is taboo in Communist countries.

Chile, Nigeria, El Salvador, Thailand, Rhodesia and Sarawak.

A 15-plane airlift has ferried more than 1,300 Canadian Scouts across the Atlantic. The Canadians, who arrived early, are billeted with Scouting families south of London until the Jamboree starts.

The green shirts and blue shorts have become common sights on central London's streets, amongst this group are five Scouts, one Rover Scout and two Scouters from the Victoria district. On the completion of the Jamboree these two leaders, Miss Winnie Lees and Glen Oliphant, will go to Gilwell Park, where they will take a training course, Miss Lees an Akela course and Mr. Oliphant one for Rover leaders.

Scouts and Cubs of the Victoria district will be helping at the Gyro-Hole-in-One carnival to be held on Wednesday at the Central Junior High School. They will help pick up the golf balls and other work on the 200-yard golfing tee.

Two War Canoes Will Take Part In Fraser Epic

Indians to Aid Centennial Show

At least two giant war canoes from Saanich Indian bands will take part next spring in the centennial year re-creation of the voyage of Simon Fraser down the Fraser River.

First to "sign up" Tuesday was Moses Sam of the West Saanich Reserve, who will pilot his 50-foot No. 8 canoe in the spectacle. Eleven paddlemen, strong and true, will be his crew.

Victor and Ed Underwood, of the East Saanich tribe, also entered their canoe, the Mount Newton.

HOPES FOR 20

They were recruited by Gordon Hilker, of Vancouver, producer of the show, and Chief Elwood Modeste, chief of the Cowichan Indian band, who hope to round up 20 canoes.

Chief Modeste said four will probably be entered by members of his tribe.

All taking part will receive parchments embossed with the signatures of Lieutenant-Governor Frank Ross and Premier W. A. C. Bennett.

Plans for the spectacle call for the 18-man Fraser team to leave Prince George in three canoes on May 28.

Following the daily course set by the explorer 150 years ago, the party will be met by the Indians at Yale, to be escorted for the remainder of the 450-mile journey to Vancouver.

Gas Prices Up

PARIS (Reuters) — The French government Tuesday cancelled its subsidy to the state-owned gas industry. Gas now will cost 20 per cent more in Paris and 10 per cent more in the provinces.

Parade to Precede Shrine Horse Show

Prancing chestnut horses of the Snohomish Sheriff's Posse will highlight the sixth annual Shrine Horse Show in Royal Athletic Park Saturday.

The show, preceded by a parade through downtown streets of the 22 horses and riders, together with participants from local riding clubs, is sponsored by the Victoria Gizeh Temple.

The parade starts from Pandora and Vancouver at 1:30 p.m. and to the blare of bands will proceed to Quadra, Fort, Douglas, Fisgard to Quadra and then to the Green Street entrance of the park.

Shows will be held starting at 2:30 p.m. and 7:15 p.m. Competitions and horsemanship displays will be featured.

Proceeds go towards maintenance of 17 Shrine hospitals in Canada and the United States. As well, $4,000 is given annually to Queen Alexandra Solarium.

SHAKES HIT ANIMALS BEFORE 'QUAKE

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Can animals predict earthquakes? The keepers at the Chapultepec zoo say yes.

Almost 24 hours before Sunday's big quake here, elephants, giraffes, lions, tigers and several other caged animals came down with the shakes.

Veterinarians diagnosed the animals' trouble as emotional or nervous disorders. Dog owners also flooded veterinarians' offices with calls, reporting their pets seemed nervous.

After the disastrous earthquake, most of the animals got back their old zip.

Lane Repeats As Chairman, Tourist Group

Sam Lane, proprietor of the Olde England Inn, was re-elected chairman of the Chamber of Commerce tourist trade group at a meeting held in the Glenis Hotel Tuesday night.

Bernard L. Cox, special service supervisor of B.C. Electric, was named vice-chairman.

Group members agreed to support the retail merchants' group in its plans for a fall shopping week Oct. 4-14 to lengthen Victoria's tourist season.

A joint committee of the two groups will be formed to make arrangements for fall shopping week.

1,000,000 Hit By Flu Epidemic

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—An estimated 1,000,000 persons have been stricken in an influenza epidemic raging in Santiago and central Chile. The health ministry today announced six of the ailing have died. The epidemic has partially paralyzed some factories, offices and schools here in the capital.

CENTENNIAL PAGEANT

School Children To Play History

Greater Victoria junior and senior high school students will be invited to take part in a spectacular centennial pageant to be held here next summer.

Basic plan for the pageant calls for 15 scenes of B.C. history including the arrival of Captain Cook at Nootka, the birth of British Columbia at Fort Langley and a finale depicting the province as it is today.

Preliminary plans for the pageant were outlined to the Chamber of Commerce tourist trade group Monday night by Thomas W. Mayne, vice-president of Victoria Theatre Guild, who is chairman of a special sub-committee of the Greater Victoria Centennial Committee.

Mr. Mayne anticipates the pageant will last two and a half hours and will be performed nightly for a week or longer.

He believes the control of a large cast with detailed lighting and extensive scene-changing will require an indoor stage and auditorium such as the Royal Theatre.

"School officials feel that a charge sufficient only to defray expenses would induce more families to attend the pageant," Mr. Mayne said.

The Chamber's tourist trade group promised full support for the pageant project.

POLTERGEIST EXPERT HERE

You Don't Believe in Ghosts But You're Frightened of 'Em

By TONY DICKASON
English professor, composer and frequent CBC commentator on all sorts of subjects, Dr. C. L. Lambertson has achieved the spiritually impossible.

He's got himself a "ghost to ghost" hook-up—from Halifax and environs to Victoria.

Professor Lambertson, who teaches the more profound aspects of English to University of King's College students, is gone on ghosts.

One of his hobbies is studying poltergeists, mischievous non-visible spirits that delight in tilting tables, breaking crockery, pulling books off shelves, spilling food around and generally not behaving in the proper spirit.

He speaks to the Rotary Club here Thursday on poltergeists, in a noon-time off from instructing at the summer session under way at Victoria College.

The term poltergeist comes from the German, meaning racking or noisy spirit.

COULD BE HERE

"There's no reason why poltergeists are not found around here," said the professor, whose eyes have a tendency to light with laughter while his ginger-mustached face remains still and sombre.

Necessary for successful poltergeistism—and that's a word even spooks would find hard to decipher—seems to be a high degree of superstition, an emotional young girl, and an area with a time-happy background. Poltergeists apparently do well in werewolf country, and not too successfully on Madison Avenue.

The professor, a practical man who knows his mathematical refinements of advanced grammar, is not one to be taken in on anything not mentally advisable. But, frankly, he admits to a keen if critical interest in poltergeists. He's gone so far as even to try and hear one (you don't see polts).

DELINQUENCY SPARK?

His research has disclosed that poltergeists like to behave as children who have deliberately spilled the porridge. They are juvenile, and use juveniles as a type of medium.

That is, they attach themselves to some youngster, and create noisy havoc in the house. Sometimes this is not so cute as it may seem—fires of unexplained origin have resulted.

Poltergeists apparently leave when the juvenile becomes an adult. In fact, the simpler the brain, the happier the poltergeist!

The phenomenon of poltergeist is extended over hundreds of years, in Canada, Europe and elsewhere throughout the world.

Nova Scotia is especially hep to the unique behavior of non-visible spooks because of the psychically sensitive people there—Scots, French, Indians and Germans. The "hex" is still used in some areas.

Dr. Lambertson visited a home recently allegedly inhabited by a poltergeist. Bumps and sharp banging noises occurred, unexplained. He was accompanied by psychiatrists.

One of the main things is that while fraud could be used, it is difficult to ascertain, and always the pattern is the same—a youngster, and the generally silly behavior of the part-time ghosts.

WANTS EVIDENCE

The drawback to poltergeists is that they sometimes like to set fires. However, the professor, who saw evidence of these fires at his visit to the "potergeist"—at a home 30 miles south of Halifax, affirmed he would like to see evidence that did not necessarily tie in with use of kerosene and wetted rags.

Explanations are that the youngster involved suffers from a split personality, which can cause happenings of which the child is not cognizant—fire outbreaks, etc.

But he said, unless smart fraud was involved, it is hard to tell what accounts for the bumpings, bangings and what have you when checks disclose no sensible reason.

It boils down to whether or not a person believes in such things. If yes, the answer follows; if no, the answer is no, he maintained.

Stories built up over the years do little but to enhance the poltergeist stories. Difficult it is to authenticate, he said.

One of the modern outlooks is that the poltergeist-conscious adolescents want to draw attention to themselves—and find ingenious ways of doing so.

Women are more acceptable to the idea than men.

Cases abound: Like the Amherst, N.C. waitress, Esther Cox

Rabbit Coats Ripped by Hail

HERMOSA, S.C. (AP) — A hail storm so severe it ripped fur from rabbits hit this southwestern South Dakota area late Sunday, levelling crops and damaging buildings. Carl Libman, a Hermosa resident, said hailstones as large as golf balls piled up to a depth of two to three feet.

Vice Peddlers In U.K. Face Crackdown

LONDON (Reuters) — A self is not illegal and all a woman can be fined is a maximum £2 for soliciting. Visitors have been shocked and annoyed at prostitutes who have accosted them in London's fashionable Bond Street and Park Lane, in teeming Piccadilly Circus and the streets of Bohemian Soho. Existing legislation on prostitution was passed in 1839.

The committee report, expected to be made public next month, probably will lead to introduction of new legislation. The report is expected to recommend heavier penalties be given for soliciting with fines increased and prison sentences for landlords knowingly renting premises to be used for immoral purposes.

Shell announces two great new motor fuels, the successors to Shell Premium and Shell Gasoline

NEW

the team that satisfies the octane needs of every make of car!

Now, regardless of the make of car you drive, you can have a fuel which automatically supplies the full octane value required for every driving situation.

Today's cars are built around the most powerful engines in motoring history. And the trend is aiming still higher.

Anticipating the need for higher grades of motor fuel, Shell Oil Company of Canada, Limited has introduced two brand new gasolines. Super Shell with TCP for high compression cars, and new Shell with TCP for all other cars.

Now you can choose the gasoline that will give you the finest performance your car can deliver—the gasoline which automatically supplies the full octane value your engine requires under every driving condition.

The combustion energy in these great new Shell motor fuels gives you an added bonus, too. When you're cruising, their reserve energy is converted to more miles in every tankful.

And not only do both of Shell's new motor fuels have much higher octane, both contain TCP*. This patented additive neutralizes harmful engine deposits that cause loss of power, to assure you the continued peak performance and economy your engine was built to deliver.

For a new experience in motoring, see your Shell Dealer today for Super Shell in the new white pump or new Shell—both with TCP.

White House May Be Residence During Royal Pair's Fall Visit

WASHINGTON (UP) — It isn't official, but Queen Elizabeth may break recent custom by sleeping in the White House when she visits Washington this fall.

Both the state department and the White House have declined so far to say where the young queen and her consort, Prince Philip, will stay. Other recent state visitors have stayed at the presidential guest house across the street.

"The queen will stay wherever the head of state always stays," one state department spokesman said crisply. Asked to finish the sentence, he said: "Well, anything could happen."

Since other royal visitors of recent years have stayed at the Blair-Lee guest house, one question arises. Would they now be offended if the queen should be given a White House bedroom? That question has White House aides in a quandary.

THE ROSE SUITE?

Nevertheless, there are growing indications from some official quarters that the rose suite in the White House may win out over the green brocade canopied bed in Blair-Lee house for her majesty's stay here in October.

When she was here briefly in 1951, as princess, the White House was being rebuilt and she stayed with the Trumans at the Blair-Lee house.

One source points to two factors which may have the most influence in the final decision. First, President and Mrs. Eisenhower entertained her mother, Queen Mother Elizabeth, under the White House roof on her visit here in 1954. The queen mother spent two nights at the White House and the rest at the British embassy.

WARM MEMORIES
Secondly, President and Mrs. Eisenhower have twice been guests at Balmoral, the Royal Family's country estate. They spent a weekend there in 1946 as guests of King George VI, and a day there in 1951 as guests of Elizabeth, then princess, and Philip. They have warm memories of those visits.

Club Openings Favorite Hobby For Socialites

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Ever hear of Harry and Dotty Jameson? No? Then you're not a headwaiter at a swank nightclub or a celebrity. All headwaiters and celebrities know the Jamesons.

The Jamesons have one of the world's most expensive hobbies — attending nightclub openings. Naturally, they're well-heeled.

Once Harry and Dotty took a plane to London just because Lena Horne, one of their favorites, was opening at a smart West End club.

Lena, recalling the incident, admits that she was most happy to see them but not in the least surprised.

"I probably would have been more surprised had they not been at ringside," says Lena.

The Jamesons hop to Las Vegas, New York and in-between spots much as you and I would go to the neighborhood movie. Once Joe E. Lewis played a two-week engagement at the Mocambo here. Harry was present 13 of the 14 times the comic took the floor.

Later, he apologized to Lewis for missing the one show. The reason: His plane was delayed on its return from an Oregon business trip.

Joe says Harry knows the crime's act better than he does. "If he ever starts drinking," says Lewis, "He could go on for me."

CUGATS ARE FRIENDS
The Cugats, Xavier and Abbe Lane, also are close friends. Once the Jamesons flew to Spain when the Cugat band played in a Barcelona bull ring.

When not nightclubbing, the Jamesons live in a $250,000 home in Beverly Hills. It's one of the few $250,000 homes with only two bedrooms.

Harry is a millionaire. He made it from storage batteries and Oregon lumber interests. He is a big spender and tipper.

PRINCESS LENDS A HAND

Pop Goes the Ship As Protocol Fizzles

DUMBARTON, Scotland (Reuters) — Princess Alexandra launched a ship Tuesday — after she ignored protocol.

The champagne bottle refused to break and the ship failed to slide down the ways.

With a hearty shove from the princess — ably assisted by a hastily repaired hydraulic system — the frigate Jaguar finally smashed into the sea.

Protocol went by the board when Alexandra, Queen Elizabeth's cousin, arrived.

When the launching ceremony started Alexandra grabbed the champagne bottle and gave a hefty heave. It didn't break.

Alexandra burst into fits of laughter as chairman Edward J. Denny put up his umbrella to protect her from the non-existent shower of champagne.

On the second try the bottle broke.

The order to launch was given. But the ship did not budge as a jet of water shot out from beneath the launching platform.

Workmen scurried about to patch up the leaking hydraulic launching system. Finally the ship slid gently down the runways into the sea. Later Alexandra said: "I thought it was never going to go. It was wonderful to see her going down at last."

All that little man in the yacht cap wanted was to get a haircut, read the newspaper and make a telephone call.

"How did you do it?" Mr. Lesser asked a reporter. "You're the first paper to catch even so much as a glimpse of me since I left Hollywood two weeks ago."

The movie producer left that "racket in California" for a month's cruise up the B.C. coast to Alaska, accompanied by his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Mendel Silberberg and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rolapp. Silberberg is a lawyer, Rolapp a real estate agent.

"This is strictly a holiday trip," said Lesser, adding with a grin: "That ought to be a novelty — an American producer on a trip and not looking for a location for his next movie."

Hockey to Lead Off Kelowna's Regatta

KELOWNA — With slightly more than a week to go until the 51st Kelowna International Regatta, the directors of Canada's big water show are busy tying up the loose ends and frayed nerves that inevitably accompany this entirely community-operated water extravaganza.

This year the show will kick off on Tuesday night, Aug. 6, with, of all things, an ice hockey game. Alert arena officials, sensing the wonderful possibilities of having such a game, made sure the summer figure skating school mistress left the date open for them.

The game, an exhibition affair between South Okanagan All-Stars and the North Okanagan All-Stars, should have some big-name stars in the rosters, with Tony Leswick, former NHL great, and Al Rollins, NHL star goalie, also Andy Bathgate, NHL forward, have signified their intentions of playing in the game.

HAWAIIAN GROUPS

Intermission entertainment at the game will be provided by members of the Hawaiian troupe who will attend the regatta, playing in three of the four night shows, and making regular appearances at the authentic Hawaiian village the regatta directors are setting up in Kelowna's beautiful City Park, site of the regatta.

First afternoon of competitive events in the Oropogo Pool will feature the Western Canadian diving championships, with some of Canada's finest divers competing from the 10-metre "Dr. George Athans" tower, first of its kind in Canada.

A competitive first for the regatta will be established on Wednesday, also, with Mrs. Irene Athans, former rhythmic swimming champion, conducting the first rhythmic swim-competitive events in Canada.

Open water events for Wednesday will be the western Canadian water ski championships.

Official opening of the regatta, with Commodore J. E. Brown of Montreal, director of Federation of Mayors and Municipalities, sharing the spotlight with reigning Lady-of-the-Lake Doreen Serwa, will take place at 8 p.m.

BEAUTY PAGEANT

The regatta parade, featuring 10 Canadian and American bands, as well as a host of floats and comedy routines, takes place on Thursday at 6 p.m.

Night shows Thursday, Friday and Saturday will be professional vaudeville, staged under the stars on the floating stage in the blue Lake Okanagan.

Grace Before Lunch Stirs Storm in Town

It Is Illegal, Claims New Jersey A-G; Ridiculous, Snorts School Principal

EDGEWATER PARK, N.J. (AP) — Controversy rages in this tiny town over whether school children here can say grace before lunch.

The attorney-general of New Jersey says it's illegal. The supervising principal says "ridiculous."

Edgewater Park has two elementary schools—Magowan and Farnum. Magowan teaches the first through the fourth grades; Farnum, grades five to eight. Children come here to school from outlying districts and the combined attendance of Magowan and Farnum is close to 400.

About 350 of the pupils had been saying grace for some years in their class rooms just before leaving to eat in the cafeterias.

This practice was abandoned in March after the school board received a protest. It was resumed in April when a petition bearing 603 names objected. Meanwhile, the school board asked the state attorney-general, Grover C. Richman, Jr., for a ruing. Richman's decision was received here this week. It read: "Grace invokes the divine blessing before a meal. As a religious exercise, it is barred in the public schools of this state. There can be no legal or constitutional objection, however, to the reading of passages from the Old Testament—or the repeating of the Lord's Prayer immediately prior to the noon meal."

New Jersey law requires the reading of at least five verses of the Old Testament, without comment, in each class to start the school day. The state supreme court has ruled that the Lord's Prayer and the Old Testament are non-sectarian.

WHERE IS HE?

All is calm on the Beresford front since the announcement of his "exile" to a post abroad. The handsome Irish peer, Lord Patrick Beresford, has been rumored as favored "beau" of Princess Margaret until the "transfer" announcement. Since then not a word has been heard about him.

Vital Radar Line Ready to Operate

WASHINGTON (UP) — A 3,000-mile line of radar stations that may mean life or death to Canada and the U.S. in case of an enemy attack went into operation today.

Construction of the Distant Early Warning (DEW) Line was completed on schedule in 32 months.

Germans Jail Woman Spy

KARLSRUHE, Germany (Reuters) — A Russian-born woman telephone operator at the West German Embassy in Moscow, accused of betraying state secrets to Soviet agents, was sentenced to 14 months in prison by the federal high court here Tuesday. Nadescha Kragzsh, 39, was alleged to have given detailed information on the lives and habits of embassy officials to the Russian secret service.

Building the string of radar stations has been termed the "greatest arctic operation of all time." The DEW line, which stretches from Cape Lisburne in Alaska all the way across Canada to Baffin Island, is designed to give vital targets in North America three or more hours warning of a Russian attack across the polar wastes.

It was built at an estimated cost of $600,000,000. International Telephone & Telegraph Corp. will operate the DEW line under supervision of the U.S. air force.

There was a hint in the announcement that the air force hoped the radar outposts probably with some modification, could serve as a warning system for guided missiles as well as aircraft.

Behind the DEW line about 1,000 miles to the south is the Mid-Canadian line, which is nearing completion. It will

SUNDAY BALL COURT CASE SET FRIDAY

VANCOUVER (CP) — Trial of the Vancouver Mounties Baseball Club on charges of violating the Lord's Day Act by playing Sunday baseball is expected to proceed in police court Friday.

City prosecutor Stewart McMorran said several of the club's directors have been subpoenaed to appear. Counsel for the Mounties' will be Senator J. W. Farris.

Dope Lab Found By Milan Police

MILAN, Italy (Reuters) — Police said here today they had discovered a laboratory used by an international drug trafficking gang where heroin smuggled from Turkey was processed for export to the United States and Canada. They said they believed that about 154 pounds of heroin already had been processed by the laboratory and sent to North America.

WORST ON RECORD

Treacherous Icebergs Mystery to Skippers

HALIFAX (CP) — The iceberg menace in the North Atlantic this year is the worst in memory, says every captain who guides a ship through the treacherous waters. The question is, why?

Even a close study of Greenland glaciers and northern currents probably wouldn't tell very much. The answer lies in records two or three years old.

A meteorological official here says all icebergs now in the Atlantic likely broke away from Greenland glaciers three years ago. When they break they follow a northern course, drifting with the current towards Baffin Bay. As they work south again, they usually freeze up twice—or perhaps three times—before they break away for keeps and move south until they melt.

This suggests some simple answers to this year's problem. Perhaps the bergs failed to break free during one of the warm seasons and stayed frozen together until this spring. Or a shift in currents could have carried them southward faster, not giving them a chance to melt on the way.

Then again, perhaps it just happened that more bergs broke off the glaciers three years ago.

The international ice patrol has ships throughout the Atlantic recording data which likely will result in some conclusions. Meanwhile, shipping is having a tough time.

Often this summer, ships have been a full day behind schedule on an ocean crossing that usually takes seven days.

Transport department officials in St. John's, Nfld., say the iceberg situation is the worse since records were first kept there 50 years ago.

Because of its position, Newfoundland has been taking the worst beating from the bergs which often ground in bays and inlets and take weeks to melt. But this year they have also been drifting past the Nova Scotia and New England coasts, hampering New York to Europe shipping.

FINE VIEW ENHANCES BARREN ISLAND HOME OF STUDENT SCIENTISTS

alarming them. At right is small cabin built of driftwood by Takacs. Overlooking Haro Strait, it is landmark on busy Sidney-Anacortes waterway.—(Strickland photos)

VICTORIA, WEDNESDAY, JULY 31 21

MONTE ROBERTS

A seedless grape has, just this minute, set me off on what might loosely be termed a train of thought.

And I hasten to make it clear that the grape in question was in its natural state, in other words, not fermented. As I munched on the seedless grape in question, the thought came to me:

Now, who in the world is responsible for taking the seeds out of seedless grapes?

It seems to me that removing seeds from seedless grapes must be one of the most exacting and delicate professions imaginable.

Taking the seeds out of seedless oranges or even seedless lemons is as nothing compared to taking the seeds out of seedless grapes.

I would dearly love to meet, and to shake by the hand, the man whose chore it is to take the seeds out of seedless grapes.

And to pursue this train of thought further down the track (before it is derailed), I would also dearly love to meet, and to congratulate, those who:

Take the fire out of fireless cookers.

The sleeves out of sleeveless sweaters and the toes out of toeless slippers.

The tubes out of tubeless tires.

The specialist who took the head off the headless horseman.

And also the canine specialist who removes the hair from a Mexican hairless.

I would stand in awe were I privileged to meet the man who takes the winding mechanism out of windless watches; the gearshift out of shiftless automobiles; the brush out of brushless shaving cream; the bottom out of bottomless pits; the brains out of brainless idiots; and (oh, happy man that he must be) the one who takes the straps out of strapless brassieres.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Roberts is at this moment meeting the man who puts an end to endless columns—namely, me.)

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Strips advertising British Columbia's 1958 centennial year are already being displayed on 70 billboards in Washington and Oregon owned by Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau.

"Our advertising campaign for next year is well underway," publicity commissioner George Warren said.

"The sooner we get people talking about our celebrations the better. Then they can start making their plans to come here."

Two city law firms have merged.

Straith & Co. and Cross and O'Grady have merged into the new firm of Straith, O'Grady, Buchanan & Smith. Firm members are W. T. Straith, T. P. O'Grady, W. A. Buchanan and Angus Smith.

Gerald Cross is now provincial legislative counsel.

ASK THE TIMES

Q.—Did Sir George Foster who for long when I was a boy was so well known in Canadian politics and administration ever deliver an address in Victoria?

A.—Yes when in his 65th year and a member of the Senate of Canada, he addressed a capacity audience in the First Presbyterian Church (now the First United Church) on the evening of Sept. 2, 1925. He was still the possessor of a powerful intellect and his speech brimmed with loyalty to Canada and his hopes for Canada and the rest of the British Commonwealth.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the question along to The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve emergencies.

3 Probationers Bring Force Up to Strength

Victoria police strength was brought up to strength today with acceptance of three probationary constables as third class constables, bringing them into the force proper.

Police commission accepted Constables David W. Glancy (eq), 28, Elmer G. Keleny, 24, and Norman V. Hansen, 24, who had all served more than six months as probationers.

This brings the constabulary strength of city police to 62.

"These are all good men," said Police Chief John Blackstock in recommending their advancement.

City police commission today authorized purchase of a small English car at a cost of $2,227 for use of the juvenile officer.

Pair in Lonely Vigil on Island

By DON INGHAM

A self-imposed four-month exile which leaves no time for brooding is being enjoyed—yes, enjoyed—on lonely Mandarte Island by two young bird watchers.

The island is about one mile east of Sidney Island; the birds are gulls, cormorants, guillemots and other lesser sea birds; and the "watchers" are Gerry van Tets and Joseph Takacs.

Gerry is a UBC student of Dutch background who is working towards a master's degree in biology, and has chosen as the subject for his thesis the "language" of cormorants. Joseph, his man Friday, is a student in the Hungarian school of forestry that was transplanted to B.C. from Sopron University after the revolt last fall against the Red rulers of Hungary.

In order to finance his own studies, Gerry has undertaken a bird-banding program sponsored by the National Research Council and the American Natural History Museum. As a result, the two men have banded 20 adult pigeon guillemots, 31 guillemot chicks, 10 pelagic cormorants, 500 gulls, and three young oyster-catchers.

"We are prouder of the oyster-catchers than of all the rest put together," Gerry told photographer Irving Strickland and me on a visit to the rocky island Tuesday. "They are rare and not often caught."

Simple to Experts

The banding of young birds appears to be a very simple process to one acquainted with birds and their habits. While we watched, Gerry spotted two baby gulls, and in the space of a minute had fastened numbered metal bands on their legs by pinching the bands closed with pliers. They fit loosely, and being made of aluminum, are not heavy enough to bother the birds.

Day in and day out, since about the first of May, one day has gone much like the rest. The two men get up between 7 and 8 a.m. and Gerry cooks breakfast. Joseph does the washing up while Gerry brings his diary up to date, recording their activities and the varieties of birds seen on the island the previous day.

For the remainder of the morning they move from one to the other of the three hides, or shelters, on the island, from which they can watch the birds without alarming them unduly.

In the afternoon they check nests, another facet of their multiple contribution to bird lore, and at night either read, write up their records, or check the cormorant nests they dare not go near in the daytime for fear of frightening the birds.

"That involves clambering around on cliffs of rotten rock, that sometimes comes away in our hands," Gerry said. "We have to be careful."

Spooky at First

The birds were exceedingly spooky when they first arrived on the island, and would fly off in a cloud at the least provocation. Now, however, they complain a little when the two men roam about, but they show no real alarm. Aircraft also leave them cold, but helicopters and eagles send them into a panic.

"We saw gulls practically drive an eagle into the sea," they said.

Great care must be taken not to alarm the birds—there are 4,000 gulls and hundreds of cormorants—to such an extent that they would leave the island and not come back.

"Especially now that we have the van Tets Hotel built," Gerry said.

GLIDERS SEEK MONEY TO BUY FIRST GLIDER

The newly-formed Victoria Soaring Club will discuss means of acquiring its first glider at a meeting in the Chamber of Commerce boardroom next Monday at 8 p.m.

"Our membership has now reached more than 50," Russ Jeffs, chairman and founder, said today. "We are now getting down to the essential business of how we can start gliding."

A number of RAF and RCAF veterans have joined the gliding club.

'OUCH'—WARREN

Another Map Obliterates This Island

Latest in the long list of offenders who leave Victoria and Vancouver Island off their maps of the Pacific Northwest—the Washington State Department of Commerce and Economic Development, Olympia, Wash.

The department today received a stiff letter from that eagle-eyed defender of the Island's map-worthiness, Publicity Commissioner George I. Warren.

What grieves Mr. Warren is that this particular map was actually published by the department in Victoria.

It invites Victorians to visit beauty spots in the state of Washington but the white space above the B.C. boundary line shows only one Canadian city—Vancouver.

"We have for many years encouraged international tourist traffic between Victoria, Vancouver Island and the state of Washington," Mr. Warren said today.

"This map is therefore a poor return for the publicity we have given to Washington state."

NEW RECORD SET

55 Minutes, Single Ski, Beat Strait

Juan de Fuca Strait was crossed for the first time today on a single water ski.

The feat of combined skill and endurance was accomplished by 24-year-old college student and part-time radio announcer Dick Goodwin, Port Angeles.

Elapsed time was 55 minutes. Chapman gave as his reason for the successful try: "I wanted to be the first to do it on one ski."

Take-off time from Ediz Hook was 8 a.m., and the crossing was made under perfect water conditions—enough "ripple" to enable the skier to plane directly in the wake of the towing craft.

Chapman's single ski is called the "banana" type, a fairly wide laminated job built specifically for "single skiing." Two foot grips are on the board, and it is ridden with one foot directly ahead of the other.

Course was from Ediz Hook to Race Rocks, then directly in to the entrance to Inner Harbor.

215 HORSEPOWER

Towing craft was a Bell-Boy cruiser with a twin Interceptor turning up 215 horsepower. Speed averaged 30 miles per hour, indicating about 28 miles were covered. Direct-line route is 18 miles.

Navigator-captain of the tow boat was Gay Harshman, and official observer and timer was his wife, Nancy.

Chapman reports two other water skiers from Port Angeles are going to attempt the feat soon and will try to beat his time.

They are Ron Parks and John Sweet.

Says Chapman: "They're both better skiers than I am, that's why I wanted to try it first."

The Strait was crossed by four Langford men—using two skis each.

Cliff Johnson and Don Lowe crossed from Victoria to Port Angeles. Knute Johnson and Neal Smith from Port Angeles to Victoria.

DICK CHAPMAN

... crossed strait on one ski.

Span on Schedule

Point Ellice Bridge reconstruction is on schedule with work in progress at the west end and retaining walls, and the Victoria Machinery Depot east end approach, city engineer James Garnett said Tuesday.

Steel fabrication in Vancouver for the bridge is ahead of schedule, he said.

Mining Industry Suggestions Mostly Worked Into New Act

Mines Minister Kenneth Kiernan said today "nearly all" the suggestions made by the B.C. mining industry regarding implementation of new provincial legislation have been adopted by the government.

He made the statement in releasing details of how the new system of leases, replacing Crown-granted mineral claims, will be applied.

The new system was adopted through an amendment to the Mineral Act passed at the spring session of the legislature.

Mining men immediately protested that the legislation was discriminatory against prospectors, and did not give the industry sufficient assurance of long-term tenure.

These fears have now been allayed, Mr. Kiernan said.

In applying the act the government is seeking as much flexibility as possible, Mr. Kiernan said.

"We don't want to lay down a policy so rigid that it would confront a practical operation with regulations that are unworkable," he said.

Under the previous method of Crown-granted claims, individuals or firms could hold mineral properties in perpetuity without developing them.

"We didn't think it was in the best interests of the people of British Columbia that anyone could buy up the resources of the province and then sit on them," Mr. Kiernan said.

Under the new system, the government will be able to review leases to see that work requirements are being carried out.

"But anyone who is ready to do business will not find us difficult," Mr. Kiernan said. "We want development."

Here is how the new system will work:

Any person who holds a free miner's certificate can locate, record and hold a mineral claim for five years.

A retention or production lease can be obtained only by the holder of a mineral claim who has done $500 work on the claim or paid cash in lieu of work.

Gold commissioners are authorized to issue a five-year retention lease if the claim holder submits an affidavit that, in his opinion, the property cannot profitably be put in production at that time.

RENEWAL POSSIBLE

If application is made to renew a five-year retention lease, the mines department may require a written certificate by a registered mining or geological engineer to the effect that the minerals in the leasehold cannot profitably be put into production.

Provided the department is satisfied, there is no set limit to the number of times a retention lease may be renewed.

An application for a 21-year production lease must be accompanied by a plan of development and production.

Production leases can be renewed. The leases will not be revoked if production is suspended for economic reasons during the 21-year period.

Suede Jewelry Is Smart
With Tailored Ensemble

By PENNY SAVER

I found some good-looking jewelry today to wear with tailored dresses or sweaters and skirts. It's made of suede, a material I certainly hadn't thought of before in connection with jewelry.

The suede is set in gold metal to form a plain, wide bracelet and round clip-on earrings, and comes in either black or cinnamon. The cinnamon pieces are here, the black will be very soon.

Price of the bracelet is $2, the earrings are $1.

I haven't known any budgie personally, but I understand they are sometimes reluctant to take their baths. But they enjoy looking at themselves in a mirror, so you can solve the problem with a plastic bathtub with a mirror in the bottom. These are 98 cents.

If the budgie still won't co-operate, you can buy liquid cleanser to spray over his feathers for 59 cents.

EASY GAME

Dominoes is a game that even the youngest in your family will enjoy if you have a set that doesn't rely on the usual dots.

A new type of dominoes can be played by matching colors or pictures as well as dots. A set is $1.19.

Rooted dolls' hair that can be washed and curled is featured on most of the "little girl" dolls, and if it gets mussed, it's easily tidied up.

A little girl may not object so much to having her own hair curled if at the same time she can be putting curlers in her doll's hair. Four miniature plastic curlers meant for the job are 10 cents.

A boy could be kept busy during these vacation days making the popular plastic model boats, planes and cars. These are all cut and molded, ready to be glued together and painted.

There's a Mississippi river boat at $2.98 that would be well worth making.

I'll tell you where I shopped today if you give me a call at 2-3131.

On Etiquette

YOU CAN'T PLEASE EVERYONE:

A large wedding is being planned for our daughter who will have a maid of honor and eight bridesmaids, and there will be an equal number of boys in the bridal party. Before the ceremony, we will have a dinner for about 150 people, which will be for only the relatives on both sides, so you can see that both families are large. After the ceremony, there will be a big reception for about 400. There is criticism from some of the mothers of the girl attendants. They say that since they are paying for their daughters' dresses they and their husbands should be invited to the dinner. What is the ruling on this? If these parents have to be invited, then of course we'll do it, but it means that we should include the parents of the best man and ushers.

Yearning Finds Expression
In Music for Northland Song

By ELIZABETH FORBES

"I was homesick for the north," is the way Elinor Dusenbury explains the fact that she wrote the music for "Alaska's Flag," official territorial anthem of Alaska.

"We had spent three years in Alaska from 1934 to 1937 at Chilkoot Barracks, a small army post where my husband, Col. Ralph Dusenbury was in charge.

"When we came out I couldn't get the North out of my blood. I was right down homesick."

Just about that time Marie Drake, a friend of Mrs. Dusenbury and deputy minister of bad, Calif. The Chilkoot Barrack at Port Chilkoot has long since been abandoned and a small town named Haines has taken its place, "right at the end of the Alaska Highway."

"We went back every summer for five years, when we first left Chilkoot," Elinor Dusenbury says, "but it seemed as if we were more homesick each time, so we stopped that. Now, we only go up once in a long while."

To offset her yearning for the north country, Mrs. Dusenbury keeps busy with community work in Carlsbad. She is regional director of Country Friends, a philanthropic group of women that covers most of California. They give concerts, plays, garden parties and various other events and all the moneys go to charity.

She is also a member of the Oceanside-Carlsbad Orchestra Association, a group that sponsors concerts throughout the year.

The Dusenburys motored north along the Pacific coast with relatives from Miami. Today they go to Nanaimo and then to Vancouver from where they will start south again. They have been staying at Crystal Motel in Victoria.

Elinor Dusenbury loves Alaska

education at Juneau, wrote the poem "Alaska's Flag."

"It was after the flag had been adopted up there," Elinor Dusenbury says, "and the explanation of the design sent out for the schools was so complicated Marie Drake said it would never be understood by the children."

"She was challenged to write a better explanation . . . and she came up with the poem."

A friend sent the words to Mrs. Dusenbury, who was in Omaha.

"I was so homesick for Alaska when I read it, I sat down and composed the music for the song."

The NBC studio in Omaha liked it so well, they sent it on to famed Fred Waring who introduced it on the air.

Finally the people of Alaska adopted it as the territorial anthem and it is now being printed in "Alaska" and distributed there.

Victorian Among 'Lost Goats' In Exclusive Students' Club

By DEE LAVOIE

Attractive blue-eyed Patricia Carstens of Victoria is proud to be "Goat No. 13" in one of London's most exclusive clubs. Miss Carstens, 24, is spending the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Carstens, Topp Avenue, after a year's postgraduate study at London University.

There she was a member of the Goats' Club, a students' organization planned to bring together as many nationalities as possible. Membership is limited to 100, with no more than six from each country, and there is a long waiting list for most countries.

Yesterday at her home, Miss Carstens put Brahms' Symphony No. 2 on the record player and talked enthusiastically about the club's activities.

"The club was formed in October, 1956, and there wasn't a vacancy for a Canadian until just before Easter this year. Then No. 13 became vacant. The meetings began with coffee and a social session; then we had a surprise speaker."

Speakers ranged from serious—Sir John Hunt, librarian of Windsor Castle—to humorous—Miss Joyce Grenfell, well-known English actress.

"One speaker was Mme. Pandit," Miss Carstens remembered. "She invited a group of us to tea at India House later, and we were served red-hot Indian food. I had a mouthful of spiced peas fried in batter and had to rush gasping for a glass of water."

NATIVE RHYTHMS

"After the meetings, we adjourned to drink cider and talk. One session ended with students from Ghana and West India beating out native rhythms on the tables and singing their national songs."

Unique name of the club originated when an African student told Miss Mary Trevelyan, adviser to overseas students at London University and club founder, "we would all be lost goats without you."

Miss Carstens, known as one of Victoria's most brilliant students, took her Bachelor of Arts at University of British Columbia and her Master's degree at University of California.

She hopes to get her Doctor of Philosophy after another year's work in London, specializing in English literature which she plans to teach. She is studying on a $2,000 IODE scholarship.

"My thesis is on Dr. John Arbuthnot physician to Queen Anne," she said.

NO SERVANTS

"I've been doing most of my research in the British Museum Library, but I made a trip to Arbuthnot Castle in Scotland and met the present Lady Arbuthnot. She opened the door herself—the servant shortage, you know."

She went to Scotland with an Indian friend. She spent the Christmas holidays touring Italy with two German friends, and Easter in France with a Chinese girl.

Miss Carstens plans to fly back to London in September to complete her work. Then she plans to return to Canada to teach. "It would be nice if Victoria College is a university by then," she added thoughtfully.

Via Panama

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Stepany have returned to their home on Beach Drive after a three-and-a-half-month trip to England and the Continent. They left Vancouver in April aboard the Holland-American line Tss Dinteldyk and traveled through the Panama Canal to Antwerp. They also returned through the Panama on the same ship.

Flowers, Gowns Carry Out Pastel Motif for Wedding

Pink and white was the color scheme carried out in flowers and gowns at the recent wedding of Margaret Diane Houghton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Houghton, 4598 Scarborough Road, Royal Oak, and Stafford Edward Buswell, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Buswell of Leicester, Eng. Pink and white gladioli formed the background in St. Michael's and All Angels' Church for the ceremony performed by Rev. J. Rogers. Music was provided by organist and choir.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a ballerina-length gown fashioned with bodice of rosepoint lace and skirt of misty nylon net edged with scallops of the lace. The bodice featured sabrina neckline and lily-point sleeves. Her fingertip net veil fell from a Juliet cap embroidered with pearls.

Mrs. D. L. Dockstader, matron of honor, and Mrs. J. B. Peat, bridesmatron, wore identical ballerina-length gowns of pink broadcloth crystal. They had pink daisies in their hair and carried basket bouquets of pink carnations and daisies.

Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Antrobus, 2580 Sooke Road, have announced the engagement of their elder daughter, Brenda Maurcen, to Olaf Jorgen Jacobson, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Jacobson, 897 Goldstream Avenue. The wedding will take place Aug. 10 in St. John's Anglican Church, Rev. Canon George Biddle officiating. (Miss Antrobus' photo by Chevrons; Mr. Jacobson by Flett.)

The engagement is announced of Miss Katharine Riddle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Riddle, Obed Avenue, and Mr. Joseph Picha, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Picha of Armstrong, B.C. The wedding will take place in St. Mark's Anglican Church on Aug. 30 at 8 p.m., with Canon Robert Willis officiating. Miss Sandra Noble will be maid of honor; Mrs. George Picha, brides-matron; Misses Carole Cardler and Audrey Beaumont, bridesmaids; Mr. Paul Picha, best man, and Mr. James Riddle, Mr. George Picha and Mr. John Picha, ushers. Miss Riddle, a Victoria debutante of 1953, graduated in Arts and Mr. Picha in Applied Science, both from University of British Columbia and both this year. 'Proud Heritage' Gives History Of National Council of Women

OTTAWA (CP) — A former newspaper woman who, leafed through records covering more than 60 years of activities of the national council of women says she found the venture far from dull.

"In fact, I got a great kick out of it," Rosa Shaw, author of "Proud Heritage," the NCW's first history, said in an interview.

Commissioned to pull together the council's scattered and sometimes scanty records, she found an adventure story among the council's year books and yellowed papers in the public archives here.

BUSY PIONEERS

"I really admire the energy and perseverance of the council's founders and early members," said Miss Shaw. She discovered that the individuals behind the council's achievements were go-getting women with agile minds, unhampered by old-fashioned bustles and enormous hats.

Research for "Proud Heritage," just published by Ryerson Press, Toronto, took a year of part-time work. The author, for 14 years women's editor of the Montreal Gazette, now sells real estate and does free-lance writing in Ottawa.

The NCW was founded in 1893, when Confederation was less than 30 years old and exposed ankles were considered somewhat indecent.

But Miss Shaw found that the council's "mother founders" were "outspeaking, down-to-earth and wonderful women," led by the dynamic Lady Aberdeen, wife of the governor-general of that time.

With a handful of members, the NCW's early crusades were for protection of immigrant women and children, for health, housing, education and women's suffrage.

Council activities sparked the formation of the Victorian Order of Nurses, launched playground movements, instituted domestic science studies in schools and led to the formation of public health departments, to name a few achievements.

GREATLY EXPANDED

"I hope the history will help young women to realize the heritage they have in the National Council of Women," Miss Shaw said of the 195-page illustrated work.

The group now has more than 600,000 women in 23 member-organizations working on local and national levels.

Its motto is the golden rule. Its history is essentially a lively, human interest story spiced with the humor, personality and persistence of its leaders.

Miss Shaw, who edited consumer publications for the wartime prices board, said she's never tackled an assignment quite like "Proud Heritage" before. Now she would like to do another historical review.

Walter Herbert, director of the Canada Foundation, said the book is "lively without being stuffy. . . Miss Shaw has given life and vitality to an institution."

Six Brothers A Workout

BRANTFORD, Ont. (CP) — An alderman suggested to council that the works and finance committees stop heading their reports: "Gentlemen," because there is a woman on the council. But Alderman Mary Wood explains she doesn't mind. She was brought up with six brothers.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

It takes more effort and determination to battle the bulges at middle age than it did in more youthful years. There are several reasons for this.

In the first place, the complexity of running a home and caring for young children causes many women to drop the habit of sports.

Our glandular systems slow up as we grow older. These two factors can lead to overweight and formerly lithe muscles may gradually become lax and padded with fatty deposits. A woman of middle age simply must give more thought to her diet and exercise unless she is to lose the slim lines of youth.

Middle-aged women need exercise for the sake of health and figure. If you haven't time or money for sports, you would be wise to replace this loss by taking special exercises at home.

From middle age on fewer calories are required but special attention should be given to the quality of your food. The essential, protective foods are your enthusiastic allies. More moderate servings, and well-balanced menus will do much to prolong the youthful portion of your life. Simple foods, prepared with a minimum loss of vitamin and mineral content and appropriate exercise will give both you and your figure a lift. You cannot "get away" with over indulgence as you could years ago.

If you would like to have my leaflet "Watchwords of Science for Youth After Forty," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 61 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

In Honor of the Bride

Miss Stella Harper was feted recently at a shower given by Mrs. J. House at her home on Locarno Lane. A profusion of summer flowers decorated the rooms, and gifts were presented in a small church.

A second shower was held for Miss Harper at the home of Mrs. G. Murphy on Asquith Street. Gifts were arranged in a quaint wishing well and the home was decorated with peach-toned flowers.

Mrs. R. J. Thurston, mother of the groom-elect, entertained for Miss Harper and her mother, Mrs. J. B. Harper, at an "At Home" this week for friends and neighbors. Mrs. R. Stevens, grandmother of the groom-elect, helped receive guests, and Mrs. W. Harper poured tea. Misses Shirley Cannon, Eileen Gilhen and Leona Moll served refreshments.

Miss Harper was honored at a recent shower at the home of Mrs. A. M. Robertson, Foul Bay Road. Gifts were arranged in a turquoise-decorated box, drawn in by Misses Sandra Inrig, Janis and Karen Friesen. The bride-elect received a corsage of pink roses, while her mother, Mrs. J. Harper, and mother of the groom, Mrs. R. J. Thurston, were given pink carnations. Gladioli and sweet peas decorated the home. Guests at the shower included Mrs. W. Harper, Mrs. H. Calvert, Mrs. W. Elliott, Mrs. J. Robertson, Mrs. J. Smith, Mrs. P. MacDonald, Mrs. R. Bentley, Mrs. R. Patterson, Mrs. A. Vickery, Mrs. S. Vickery, Mrs. A. Hill, Mrs. J. McDiarmid, Mrs. W. Stewart, Mrs. J. Stewart, Mrs. J. A. Robertson, Mrs. G. Robertson, Mrs. J. Sutherland, Mrs. W. Craig, Mrs. M. Connors, Mrs. P. Gregory, Mrs. K. Hayes, Misses Mary Stewart, Joyce Kilnor and Arlene Elliott.

A kitchen and party shower was given recently by Mrs. Terry P. Walls at her home on Birtles Avenue in honor of Mrs. Pounall T. Walls, the former Miss Molly Wright. A gardenia corsage was given to the bride, as well as gifts and a collection of favorite recipes, one from each of the 25 guests present.

Protest Imports

LONDON (CP) — The British Jewellers Association says government restrictions threaten the existence of the goldsmith's craft in England. The association protests regulations confining the use of gold to "utility" wedding rings while imports from continental rivals are permitted.

FRUIT MARSHMALLOW

Half cup syrup from canned fruit cocktail, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 envelope plain gelatin, 1/4 cup cold water, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 2 egg whites, 1 1/2 cups canned fruit cocktail.

Heat syrup with sugar and salt to boiling. Soften gelatin in water and dissolve in hot syrup. Add lemon juice. Beat egg whites until stiff with wire whisk (or electric mixer). Slowly pour hot syrup-gelatin mixture over them, beating constantly while pouring. Set bowl in ice water, and continue beating until gelatin begins to thicken. Fold in well-drained fruit cocktail and pour into mold or 8-inch square pan. Chill until firm. Unmold, or cut into squares to serve. Makes 8 to 9 servings.

THE ISLAND HALL HOTEL

PARKSVILLE, V.I., B.C.

Situated on Island's finest white sand beach this hospitable, charming resort is a favorite with holidaymakers. Rooms with or without private bath, some in suites, and some large family rooms. Good beds, excellent meals, ideal swimming, and lots of room for games. Located on main Island Highway 23 miles from Nantuxo ferry, close to all centre island points of scenic interest. For reservations phone 44 or write Mrs. Mary Sutherland, Mrs. Eileen Allwood, owners-managers.

NAMES NEW NURSING CHIEF

LONDON (CP)—The Navy, Army and Air Force Institutes announce Miss C. P. Lester has been appointed chief nursing officer. She spent nine months in Toronto in 1955 doing post-graduate work at the University of Toronto. Her new post starts in London next October.

The Story Behind Oil-Dipped Eggs

Have you noticed that there are eggs, after grading, are dipped, what freezing does for fruits, vegetables, meat and fish, preserving their quality and extending the season of their availability.

When fresh supplies of eggs become scarce, as they are now, oil-dipped eggs are taken out of their refrigerated storage, regraded according to government specifications and made available for you in the food markets across Canada.

The oil seals the pores in the shell and prevents evaporation, and in this way the initial good quality of the egg is retained. The oil does not penetrate beyond the inner shell membrane and so none of it enters the white, or albumen, of the egg. Oiling does for eggs what freezing does for fruits, vegetables, meat and fish, preserving their quality and extending the season of their availability.

These are: the shell must be clean, unbroken and practically normal in shape; the albumen, or white, of the egg is thick and firm; and the eggs are specially suitable for poaching, cooking in the shell, frying, scrambling and omelets.

So far as you, the shoppers of Canada, are concerned the one big difference in these two types of eggs is the price, for that of the Grade A oil-dipped eggs is from 8 cents to 16 cents less than the price of the Grade A fresh eggs. The question is—why? From the Consumer Section, Canada Department of Agriculture, here is the answer.

Like most foods, eggs have their seasons of heavy and light production. When they are plentiful prices are low; when they become scarce, prices go up.

The heaviest supplies of eggs come during the late winter and early spring months. From July to December egg production is light so, to avoid scarcity of eggs and very high prices during this time, reserve stocks from earlier in the year must be supplied. This is why we have oil-dipped eggs.

In oiling eggs, the freshly laid

Candlelight Ceremony For Couple

Graceful standard baskets of multi-colored gladioli and lighted tapers formed the setting for a recent wedding in Metropolitan United Church. Rev. Laura Butler performed the ceremony, uniting in marriage Miss Mina Thornton and Edward Donald McIntosh, both of Victoria. William McNeil played organ music as the bride, radiant in a floor-length gown of champagne chiffon, walked up the aisle on the arm of Jack Taylor. Her gown, featuring Grecian bodice, was worn with avocado green accessories and a single strand of pearls, and she carried a bouquet of talisman roses.

Miss Constance Holmes was bridesmaid in an ankle-length turquoise blue chiffon gown. She wore pale yellow accessories, and silver necklace and earrings in filigree design. A bouquet of pale yellow carnations and ivy completed her costume.

John Sievers acted as best man, while Gordon Thomas and Merrill Harrop ushered.

A reception was held at the Golden Slipper, where Whittaker's orchestra provided music.

For a honeymoon in the interior of B.C., Mrs. McIntosh chose a dark green suit with avocado accessories and a gardenia corsage. The couple will make their home on 1764 St. Ann Street on return.

Longer Doe Deer Season Justified Says Expert

ONE OF THE MEN BEHIND GUNS of Lancaster aircraft of RCAF 407 Maritime Patrol Squadron, Comox, is Cpl. H. J. Barber, 24, munitions and weapons specialist for past three years. Brother of Ronald Barber, 113 Island Highway, he joined RCAF six years ago. (National Defence photo)

NANAIMO—Extension of the doe deer season, criticized by hunters and game wardens, is completely justified, according to B.C. Game Department biologist Don Robinson.

The season is now two weeks instead of one, and hunters will be permitted to shoot two does.

"The opening of the antlerless season a week earlier and allowing two antlerless animals is based on collection of field facts," he said in a prepared statement.

"The deer population on most Vancouver Island ranges is higher than at any time since the late 1940s. At that time severe winter weather caused drastic declines. To reduce this type of loss it is necessary to harvest 25 to 35 per cent of the pre-winter population. This allows the same amount of food to be shared by fewer animals, resulting in better survival.

"We cannot expect deer or any other game species to increase indefinitely. Our deer population on most ranges is at a level where future large increases are not likely. Harvest at this time of approximately half or slightly more of the annual fawn crop is necessary to maintain the herds. Most Island deer herds start off with a 45 to 60 per cent increase, and a hunting kill of 25 to 35 per cent is not excessive. Our average deer harvest runs around 15 per cent of the total, whereas it should run 25 to 30 per cent.

"To bring about desirable harvest, the antlerless kill should approximate the buck kill. In the past, bucks have outnumbered the does two to one.

"During the past four seasons we have gradually liberalized the season with a view of benefitting deer herds. At each step we have appraised the situation before going on.

"The condition this fall is one of large deer populations; much larger than the winter ranges can adequately handle. This alone would make a higher harvest desirable. The kill of deer over the past four years has run around 11,000 to 15,000, whereas it could have been substantially higher. For these reasons the Game Commission decided once again to liberalize the season to insure a proper harvest.

"There is no danger that our deer herds will be seriously overhunted, as the Game Commission has the authority to close a season if warranted. Road checks at key areas during the latter part of the season will insure up-to-date information on the size of the harvest."

Courses Planned In Conservation

NANAIMO (CP)—Consideration is being given to introduction of a course in conservation in B.C. schools, Earle C. Westwood, minister of conservation and recreation, told Nanaimo Kiwanis Club Tuesday.

Mr. Westwood said a UBC professor is studying the matter. Whether the course will be given in high schools or elementary schools or both, had yet to be decided.

"I feel our young people should be given a course in conservation because people throughout B.C. are beginning to recognize the value of the resources they hold and the importance of handing on this heritage intact," he said.

Because of the growing trend to seek recreation on the lakes and coastal waters, the province was conducting a survey to spot a series of marine parks to accommodate the 50,000 small boat owners of British Columbia.

Automation and the shortest work week in Canada was bringing the problem of leisure time to the fore and had already been reflected in vastly increased use of parks and outdoor recreational sites.

Rider on Truck Killed Up-Island

PORT ALBERNI—A hitchhiker was killed Tuesday at noon in Cathedral Grove and his companion was seriously injured when a small German-built truck in which they were riding plunged off the Parksville-Alberni highway.

5 Langford Women Serve On Ambulance

LANGFORD—Volunteer Fire Department here has signed up five women who will serve as attendants on the Langford ambulance during the daylight hours.

This is the second Island department—Duncan was first—to get women volunteers as attendants. Each of the five will be on duty for a week, and during that period must be available for service at short notice.

Workers signed up to date are Mrs. Katie White, Mrs. Nora House, Mrs. Mary-Jayne Plumb, Mrs. Ema Rosin and Mrs. Barbara Bayles, and Fire Chief Rod Bayles said there is room for more.

Some of the five are trained nurses, and all are receiving training in first aid and oxygen therapy. To date they wear only a white cap, but plan a uniform of windbreaker and slacks as the most practical for the work they will be doing.

TOO MANY CLAMS

Tummyache Alerts Rescue Units

GALIANO ISLAND—B.C. and Washington rescue services were alerted Monday night by clams—too many of them, and all in the stomach of a tourist.

A call for medical aid went to the U.S. Coast Guard at Friday Harbor, but its craft was out of action. The RCAF Rescue and Coordination Centre, in charge of the affair, asked RCMP at Ganges, Salt Spring Island, to take a doctor to the stricken tourist yachtsmen at Montague Harbor, on Galiano.

Police and doctor arrived about midnight, and found the man had a stomach ache, from having eaten too many clams.

"We left him there," the police officer said.

500 Island Workers In Forestry Layoff

VANCOUVER (CP)—MacMillan and Bloedel Ltd. said Tuesday it will lay off 500 men during August in temporary suspension of operations at five eastern Vancouver Island lumber camps.

Affected will be 160 men at Copper Canyon, 125 at Nanaimo River and 30 at Menzies Bay, which will close Aug. 3 to Sept. 2 inclusive, and 135 men at Northwest Bay and 50 at Shawnigan Lake, which will both close Aug. 17 to Sept. 2.

NANAIMO ISLAND WATER OKAYED FOR SWIMMING

NANAIMO—Dr. E. W. R. Best, medical health officer for the mid-Island area, has given waters adjacent to Newcastle and Protection Islands a clean bill of health for swimming purposes.

The water was tested after Archie Hill, sanitary inspector for the Central Vancouver Island Health Unit, described Nanaimo Harbor as a "septic tank." He was referring to sewage pollution on the city side of the harbor.

All 18 entrants in the Junior Chamber of Commerce mass swim attempt on Juan de Fuca Strait are today in training in local waters.

With only four days to go before "plunge" time Sunday, some are spending as much as eight hours daily in training grinds.

The race will start at 12 noon Sunday from Horseshoe Bay, Beacon Hill Park.

Each swimmer will be accompanied by a rowboat and a powerboat.

The contestants represent seven cities in Canada and the United States. Cities are Victoria, Oakland, San Francisco, Vancouver, Detroit, Roxbury, Mass., and Atlantic City, N.J.

A jackpot of $10,000 will be divided among the swimmers who cross the strait.

First prize is $5,000; second, $2,500; third, $1,500, and fourth, $1,000.

Jaycee swim committee officials said they felt that at least four swimmers will finish the course, providing the weather is ideal for the event.

"There are some powerful swimmers in the group," said one official. "Some have had wide experience and are accustomed to cold water."

Some of the swimmers have been training secretly. One is Anna Burian, of Vancouver, who came to Victoria two weeks ago but did not let anyone know of her arrival.

California's top swimmers include Gene Perle, Amy Hiland, Paul Herron, Myra Thompson and Toufie Blake.

One European, Jason Greganos, a former Greek army major, also is entered.

Arms Talks At Crisis, West Divided

LONDON (AP)—U.S. State Secretary Dulles met for the first time with Russian delegate Valerian Zorin today amid indications that the protracted United Nations disarmament talks may be at a critical turning point.

30 CP Freight Cars Derailed, Cattle Killed

WINNIPEG (CP)—About 30 cars were derailed at nearby Rosser, Man., Tuesday night when an eastbound CPR freight train plowed into the rear of another freight which had stopped on a siding after a hotbox developed. Many cattle were killed and a large quantity of grain spilled.

Three Winnipeg crewmen of the derailed train were taken to hospital, although not badly hurt. They are Douglas Cameron, 38, engineer, who suffered a badly lacerated ear and a few bruises; Thomas Miller, 18, front brakeman, with a few bruises; and fireman, James Varnes, 30, who suffered lacerations and bruises and is in fair condition. Miller and Cameron are reported in good condition.

A siding employee said the engineer and fireman jumped from their diesel locomotive just before it rammed into the caboose of the stationary freight. Miller remained in the cab. The locomotive ended up twisted and straddled across two sets of tracks.

The moving freight smashed about four or five of the rear cars of the stationary train. No one was in the caboose.

The crash scene was littered with dead cattle. RCMP had to shoot many of the beasts, trapped in and under the wreckage. Some of the dazed animals were pulled out from under the jack-knifed cars, to walk away on wobbly legs. Many had to be destroyed by a veterinarian.

Douks to Hold Mass Meeting

NELSON, B.C. (CP)—A mass meeting of district Sons of Freedom will be held at Krestova Sunday to hear reports of a delegation to Victoria last week which was told the government had no plans for summer vacations for Freedomite children.

Decision to hold the meeting was made, following funeral of Mrs. Mary Geinger, who was found dead at Krestova last Wednesday, the day the delegation met government officials.

A coroner's jury found Tuesday night that Mrs. Geinger died from asphyxia due to strangulation caused by hanging.

The Dulles-Zorin get-together was part of feverish diplomatic activity by the Big Three Western powers on this next to the last day of the period originally set for the negotiations by the UN disarmament subcommittee. The five-power group has been meeting since March 18.

Dulles met with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and other Western officials before sitting down at a full-scale "working luncheon" of all five delegations on the subcommittee, including Zorin.

In Paris, the French cabinet met and afterwards Foreign Minister Christian Pineau announced he was flying Thursday to London at Dulles' request for disarmament talks.

The British cabinet, too, was called into session.

In addition, Dulles planned to confer with Prime Minister Macmillan at dinner tonight to discuss the arms situation and other world problems.

The intense diplomatic manoeuvring seemed to indicate either that Britain, France and the United States have run into basic differences in their approach to the disarmament problem—or that they are preparing some important new proposal for Russian consideration.

NUCLEAR PROBLEM

Most signs seem to point to a difference among the three Western nations on nuclear matters. However, following the "working luncheon" at the home of U.S. Ambassador John Hay Whitney the Western nations, arranged a meeting of their experts to draw up a list of the subjects on which the Western Allies are still at odds.

After the list had been thrashed out by the experts, it will be discussed by Dulles, Lloyd and other top-level officials.

It appeared likely that Zorin would be given at least the outline of a limited "open skies" proposal to guard against a sneak nuclear attack which Dulles and other Western officials had agreed upon in private talks Tuesday and today.

Spying Alleged

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—The Free Press says emigrants from the Soviet Union living in Canada are being urged to spy on their fellow emigrants and to transmit the information "to the closest Soviet representatives."

VANCOUVER (CP)—A strike of 230 nurses at St. Paul's Hospital has been set for 7 a.m., Aug. 8, Miss Evelyn Hood, spokesman for the B.C. Registered Nurses' Association, announced.

OH, HAPPY DAY!

Two jubilant pensioners who noted $6 increase in old age pension cheques received today were Mr. and Mrs. Eric C. Jamieson, 1724 Cook Street. Oman Rebels Cracking Land Attack Imminent

MUSCAT, Sultanate of Muscat and Oman (UP)—A land attack on the rebels of Oman is imminent and the 200-strong rebel forces already are showing signs of cracking, the Sultan's foreign minister said today.

The minister, a Briton named Neil Innes, said pro-sultan troops are marshalling around the 25 by 15-mile mountain area held by the Imam, religious leader of the rebel forces.

Innes said the rebels already have lost control of Izki, the key town in the rebel-held area. The Beau Geste-style fort of Izki has been a main target of Royal Air Force Venom jet rocket attacks in recent days.

Innes said surrender ultimatums have been sent to rebel Imam Ghaleb and his brother, Talib, and that it was unlikely the Imam and his brother would be treated leniently if they did not heed the ultimatum.

Nine Venom jets loaded with rockets roared away from Britain's Persian Gulf base of Sharja, Trucial Oman, today to pound unspecified targets.

Buckell Jailed For 10 Years

VANCOUVER (CP)—John William Buckell, 43, was sentenced by Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson in Assize Court today to ten years on each of two charges of attempted murder and one of attempted bank robbery. The terms will run concurrently.

Buckell, an accountant, was convicted by the three counts jury early on the three counts, laid as a result of an attempted robbery of the Royal Bank of Canada main branch, at Granville and Hastings Street, in Vancouver on March 15.

Police constable Kenneth Miles and bank employee Ronald Compton were wounded in capturing Buckell outside the bank. Both men recovered.

NO WORD ON CHARGES AGAINST 'SWITCH' BOYS

WINNIPEG (CP)—The mother of two small boys, seven and nine years of age, who loosened a siding switch that derailed a Canadian National Railways train and injured 86 persons, says she does not know whether charges will be laid against them.

In a telephone interview she said "we haven't heard a word yet."

CNR Vice-President J. R. McMillan would neither confirm nor deny a report that it is unlikely charges will be laid against the boys.

Hoffa Linked With Gangster

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Senate rackets committee charged today that James R. Hoffa, crown prince of the big teamsters' union, joined with racketeer John (Johnny Dio) Dioguardi in seeking an economic stranglehold of the eastern seaboard.

They also said he by-passed the teamsters' hierarchy to charter seven New York "paper locals" and rig a union election.

Committee Chairman John J. McClellan (D-Ark.), Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-S.D.), and Chief Counsel Robert F. Kennedy stressed the danger to the nation when key union leaders are "behind" to gangsters and racketeers.

The charges were made in committee discussion preliminary to taking testimony this afternoon in the newest phase of its work—teamster activities in the New York City area.

Kennedy said Dio wormed his way into the labor movement in 1950 when he took over a catch-all union first chartered by the old AFL. Hoffa, he said, has a "close relationship" with Dio and once invited him to "bring his union into the teamsters."

The counsel said that Dave Beck, who is stepping down as teamsters' president after being accused of misusing more than $320,000 of the union's funds, blocked one attempt by Hoffa to get Dio into the teamsters.

AFL-CIO President Expels Teamster

WASHINGTON (UP)—AFL-CIO President George Meany today expelled Paul Dorfman, a close associate of teamsters Vice-President James R. Hoffa, as an officer and member of a small local union in Chicago.

Meany said Dorfman was guilty of violating AFL-CIO rules and ethical practices and of having "compromising personal ties" with an insurance agency doing business with the teamsters.

WIRE BRIEFS

KITIMAT, B.C. (CP)—Officials of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters here will go on strike Thursday to demand wage increases recommended by a conciliation board.

Peron Charges Fraud

CARACAS, Venezuela (UP)—Ousted Argentine ex-president Juan D. Peron said today only "scandalous fraud" made his party appear to be the second largest political group in Argentina's Sunday election. Peron said nearly a million of his supporters had been denied the right to vote.

Fisherman Drowned

VANCOUVER (CP)—A sports fisherman who drowned Tuesday at Bruns- wick Beach, five miles north of Horseshoe Bay, has been identified as James O'Hern, 45, of Vancouver.

Airman Acquitted

OTTAWA (CP)—LAC Joseph Tessier today was freed of a manslaughter charge made against him in the June 11 death of LAC Joseph R. Duffy. Evidence in magistrate's court was that Duffy died of a ruptured blood vessel in his brain during a scuffle between the two men.

Action Sparked By Fatal Chase

Crackdown on law-breaking juvenile drivers was ordered today by Victoria Police Commission.

The drive will start immediately and use of ghost cars, manned by plainclothesmen, is being considered as one means of curbing the menace.

The firm stand taken at a commission meeting was sparked by the recent death of a 13-year-old boy, Gunnar Stebeck, in an off-cliff crash on Dallas Road in a stolen car in which three other juveniles were injured.

"Crack down on the juvenile drivers out for a crazy time," said Commissioner Gordon Carter.

"Strict enforcement of the law is the answer," said Commissioner William Hamilton. Mr. Carter said "people are screaming" against behavior of adolescents in cars.

"It is worth the taxpayers' money to do something about it."

'Throw the Book' at Young Roadhogs

Commission chairman, Mayor Percy Scurrell, said: "Get tough, as tough as blazes. The time has arrived when we can't afford to be lenient. I'd throw the book at any juveniles breaking driving laws."

Mr. Hamilton suggested that cars, driven by teenagers, which cruise around and around the Yates-Douglas area, be stopped again and again and the drivers asked for licences.

This, he said, would discourage the drivers, on the prowl for other youths or "pick-up" girl friends.

Police Chief John Blackstock said he was handicapped by a lack of men in dealing with the problem.

But he said he would work out the situation and hit it hard.

Mr. Scurrell said if money for a ghost car was not in the budget, he'd ask city council to dig the money out of contingency funds.

"We must do anything we can do to stop this," he said concerning teen-age driving habits.

The police chief added that his men were clamping down on drivers who left keys in their cars, which left them wide open for juveniles to steal.

But he added nothing could be done when wires behind the dashboard were crossed.

The mayor urged that the Motor Vehicle Branch of the provincial government be approached with stiffer recommendations from the police department for lengthening of licence suspensions for juvenile infractors.

Time Honors John D.

NEW YORK (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker is featured on the cover of the Aug. 5 issue of Time magazine.

Jackson's temperature was normal today and there was no evidence of blood in his urine, hospital authorities said. He had a temperature of 102 and blood in his urine when he was admitted early Tuesday morning.

"I can still fight and win," said Jackson in discussing his future plans. "I've been hit hard before."

'Hurricane' To Continue Fighting

EAST MEADOW, N.Y. (AP)—Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson, preparing to leave hospital against his doctors' advice, said today he intends to continue his fighting career.

The 25-year-old New York heavyweight contender, who entered the hospital five hours after he absorbed a savage beating from champion Floyd Patterson Monday night, signed a paper releasing the hospital from all responsibility.

Doctors at the hospital said he suffered a bruised kidney in the fight. They wanted the eccentric fighter to remain in the hospital for observation and further checks for several more days.

70TH WIFE A CINCH

'Witch Doctor' Needs No Magic

SINGAPORE (UP)—Tengku Mohamad Ariffin, a 63-year-old Malay businessman who has been married 69 times, announced today he will marry again "to make it 70 before I will cry quits."

Ariffin, a distant relative of the ruler of Perak State in North Malaya, is popularly known to his friends as the Momoh, or witch doctor, of love.

He now lives in a modest two-story bungalow on the eastern part of the island with his only remaining wife, 36-year-old Che Kathijah Binte Sheikh Abdullah Almas.

"All our friends know what a romeo my husband is," his wife said. "I don't mind one bit if he marries again because he treats me well."

During his marriage spree the Tengku kept strictly within Moslem law which provides that a Moslem can have only four wives at one time.

"Whenever I found myself with an extra wife I just divorced her," he said.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

Dear God of travelers, we seek Thy blessing upon the thousands who will be in other lands during this summer. May they realize the privilege of representing well our country. May the countries they visit be better for the contacts. May they also be ambassadors for Thee, and so the whole world be drawn more closely about Thy throne; for Christ's sake. Amen.

Very sorry to see the old Roundabout's gonna be torn up. They'll leave me the only feller in this end o' town who's still goin' round in circles.

Gas prices goin' up. The legislative allus sets the pace.

Gonna visit the Gyro hole-in-one contest tonight. They're the only sport in the world where you put a ball 1.68 inches in diameter on another one 25,000 miles in diameter and try to knock it in a hole four inches wide!

Canada—Honest Broker

NEW YORK—The business of Canadians making speeches abroad, and especially in the United States, is now sufficiently well along that one could almost write a definite work on the subject, a guidebook to the stock phrases and the family jokes that fall most sweetly from Canadian lips.

No doubt members of the present government will be making speeches outside Canada's borders as frequently as did their cabinet predecessors, but perhaps the outgoing ministers took all the copies of their speeches from the office files. It would be a pity for anybody to have to start from scratch along so well-worn a path, so for what they are worth we submit a few observations on the subject of Canadian utterances in foreign lands.

Lynch

The classic paragraph for Canadian speeches, whether in the United Kingdom or the United States, is this: "Because we live in such close association with Britain and the United States, and because we understand each of them I think perhaps better than they sometimes understand each other, Canada is today the interpreter of the United States to Britain and of Britain to the United States. Canada is in the position to act in the role of honest broker because our affection for both of your countries is so deep and abiding."

A CERTAIN HIT

This seldom misses, even though there is reason to believe that Canadians flatter themselves in speaking this way, and that Britain and the United States understand one another perfectly well, without benefit of Canadian brokerage.

The paragraph might be followed by: "I think I can speak for every right-thinking Canadian when I say how deeply we are convinced that the preservation of the world's while things in the world depends upon the continued close co-operation of Britain and the United States, and the strengthening of the bonds of mutual trust and sympathy which have in days gone by bound them together in the championship of human freedom."

Then the speaker might toss in some sporting references, if he knows his stuff sufficiently well. The past-master of this in U.S. speeches was that well-known baseball fan and former football coach, Mr. Lester B.

Pearson, who could set American audiences up with some inside baseball or football lore, and then stick a pin in them about some U.S. antic that Canadians were finding irksome.

One of Mr. Pearson's most successful turns in the "broker" role came during the last session of the UN General Assembly, when he gave a private party for the Commonwealth—past, present and future. He invited, in addition to statesmen from the Commonwealth nations, representatives from Scotland, Ireland and the United States, and left it to them to find their own slots within the terms of the invitation. It made for a merry evening.

LOW RESISTANCE

In the matter of Jokes, we could not do better than quote from a speech given before the American Bar Association here in July by the president of the Canadian Bar Association, Mr. E. C. Leslie. Mr. Leslie subsequently addressed the members of the American Bar to London. He was in rare form here, and in fact the "classic paragraphs" quoted earlier were taken from his speech. His quips, which brought roars of merriment from his American colleagues here, can stand as models for Canadian speech writers: "I feel a good deal of sympathy with your revolutionary ancestors. They resisted all attempts by England to impose taxes upon them with a bold and resolute spirit. But I do feel that your ancestors of revolutionary days might well think that the flame of resistance to taxation has burned low in their descendants."

It appears to me that it was no great hardship for the Americans of revolutionary days to start their revolution by upsetting a shipment of tea. Had it been coffee or bourbon that was lying in Boston Harbor, I feel there may be some justification for the belief that Canada and the United States might still be one nation. Sometimes when I go to some of the restaurants in the United States I feel that the tea has been ordered from the wreckage of the cargo which was upset so long ago in Boston."

"We in Canada despair of annexing the United States because we are convinced that Texas would never consent to become the fourth largest province or state in this new confederation. The Province of Saskatchewan in which I have lived for many years is larger than Texas—it has indeed been said that the only difference between the Province of Saskatchewan and the State of Texas is that we in Saskatchewan are more loyal to the United States."

LONDON LETTER

By WALLACE REYBURN

Almost Perfect Crime

LONDON—If he hadn't overlooked one little detail, the murder he committed would probably have been what he set out to do—a perfect crime.

Vilis was a Latvian living in the London suburb of Holloway. For 18 months he had been engaged to Kitty, a girl from his own country.

Another Latvian named Janis met Kitty and she began to switch her affections to him.

Wildly jealous, Vilis decided to take his rival's life. But it was not to be a murder in the heat of anger. He would work it out methodically. It would be a perfect crime.

He planned it all down to the last detail and the first step in putting his plan into operation was to telephone his dentist and make an appointment to have several teeth filled.

On the day of his dental appointment he lured Janis to his house in Holloway and in the garage struck him down with a blow on the head which killed him. He put the body in the trunk of his car and drove off to the dentist.

He spent an hour and a half in the dentist's waiting room and in the surgery—that was his alibi.

Returning to his car he drove out of London to a lonely country road in Kent, where he took Janis' body out of the back of the car and laid it on the roadway. He then drove on a short distance, turned his car around and drove it over the prostrate body. He prided himself that he had thought of every detail that would make it look as though Janis had been the victim of a hit-and-run motorist.

When he had murdered Janis in the garage he had not been wearing the hat and raincoat he had been wearing on arrival at the house.

Vilis had remembered to bring these along with the body and put the coat on and laid the hat by the side of the car. There was rain in the air and to have left the body on the road without a raincoat would have been a certain give-away that Janis had not been out for a walk there.

After a final check-up that the supposed fatal road accident looked absolutely genuine, Vilis left the scene and drove back to London.

Then there happened something quite outside his planning. So much so that at the time he completely overlooked it as a tiny detail that was enough to bring him to justice. It started to rain and for hours it rained heavily.

When Janis' body was found and the police were brought, one of them was quick to notice the damning piece of evidence—the front of Janis' raincoat was soaked from the rain, but the back was dry. If Janis had been walking along the road on that rainy day, why wasn't the back of his coat wet?

This set the police thinking in terms of foul play. The true story of Vilis' almost perfect crime was unearthed and it sent him not to the gallows under Britain's new capital punishment laws but to prison for life.

WEATHER SYNOPSIS

CITY'S WEATHER RECORD
Sunshine, 1937 1,363.4 hrs.
Last year 1,457.8 hrs.
Precip. to date 13.30 ins.
Last year 9.99 ins.

SYNOPSIS—The mass of cool moist air which Tuesday caused frequent showers over the central B.C. coast, was moving slowly eastward into the interior this morning. As a result it appears that the south coast can look for a fair amount of sunshine in the next two days while decreasing shower activity is expected on the north coast.

In the interior rather frequent shower or thunderstorm activity is expected particularly in northern parts. Temperatures will remain fairly cool for the time of year though readings into the eighties in the southern interior are expected Thursday.

Penguin Chick Healthy

VANCOUVER (CP)—This year's first king penguin egg was hatched at Stanley Park zoo Tuesday.

Curator Alan Best said the chick looks healthy. If it survives, it will be the first zoo-born king penguin to do so in North America.

A king penguin egg was hatched at the zoo last year, but the chick died six weeks later.

The survival record for the species in North America is held by the St. Louis, Mo., zoo, where a chick lived for two months after it was hatched in 1926.

Another egg is due to hatch at Stanley Park sometime next week.

Enjoy Gardens Now Autumn Approaches

Now that the English skylark has at last ceased his daily songs from high above the nearby field, and the first of the rich juicy blackberries have been tasted, we must consider our gardening from a new viewpoint.

The approach of the fall season is like middle age—we fill our days chock full for fear we shall never attain all our goals!

At this time of year our gardens are in overflowing production, and we must take advantage of this abundance now, so that in the shorter, duller days of winter we may recall the joy of summer sun on our faces.

I have just spent a pleasant hour cutting the cooking herbs for drying. The perennial sage and thyme rushed into bloom early this year, in May I believe. Cutting them back a little after that outburst, has now produced plenty of stems for gathering. Each kind is put loosely into a separate paper bag together with its name. After hanging in a warm airy shed to dry thoroughly, the stems are sometimes unrecognizable, even though each aroma is distinct when familiar.

The annual herbs have been gathered also, sweet basil, summer savory and sweet marjoram being the only ones grown this year.

New young side shoots will soon appear on these plants. Don't forget to use these while green, chopped into the potato, egg or plain green salad. Also used fresh, they add delightful flavor to meat loaves of all kinds, and, of course, stews and soups when the cooler days come.

Facilities for Nurses Hit at Nfld. Hearing

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—The superintendent of Newfoundland's training centre for nurses, testifying before a royal commission investigating the province's finances, told Tuesday of conditions which deter nurses from remaining there.

Because of the lack of adequate facilities, said Dr. Edward Wilson, superintendent of St. John's

General Hospital, prospective nurses go to the mainland for training.

And with the higher wage scale there, they stay, he added. For the same reason it was difficult to attract trained nurses from the mainland to Newfoundland.

The provincial budget provided for the training of 170 nurses at the general hospital but the total number actually taking classes was 104.

CONDITIONS REPULSIVE

"When prospective students see the conditions under which they must live in training, it can deter them," Dr. Wilson said.

"They have no privacy whatsoever, and they have no place to study. The students doing night duty must sleep in the same quarters as those on other shifts. They can't get their proper rest like that. What we need is a nurses' home with 25 beds."

Provincial Deputy Health Minister Dr. Leonard Miller told the commission—to which the province presented a 633-page brief reviewing the province's status since Confederation in 1949 and its needs for the future—that Newfoundland needs more than $35,000,000 to raise her health services to an acceptable standard.

Commission hearings opened July 22 under Chief Justice John B. McNair of the New Brunswick Supreme Court.

Ike's Friend To Contest McCarthy Seat

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Wisconsin Republicans have nominated a firm friend of President Eisenhower's "modern republicanism" for the U.S. Senate seat previously held by Joseph R. McCarthy who died May 2.

Walter J. Kohler Jr., three-time governor of the state, edged out former representative Glenn R. Davis in a finish decided by the last vote counting in metropolitan Milwaukee precincts.

Kohler, 57, was alone in the seven-man Republican field in his support of the president. Davis is a 41-year-old veteran of five terms in the U.S. House of Representatives where he supported some of Eisenhower's domestic program but opposed the administration on foreign aid and foreign policy in general.

Kohler will be opposed in the general election Aug. 27 by William Proxmire, whom he beat twice previously in elections for governor.

U.S. Allows Shipment Of Isotopes to Russia

WASHINGTON (CP)—The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission disclosed today it has approved a first shipment of radioactive isotopes to Russia for use in cancer research.

In its 21st semi-annual report to Congress detailing advances it said were made "in all major programs" for both military and peaceful uses of atomic energy, the AEC included this paragraph: "The first application for a licence to export radioactive isotopes to Soviet Russia was received and approved. It covered a small amount of radioactive cobalt-60 which will be used for cancer research at the bio-chemical institute of the Academy of Science, Moscow."

A commission spokesman told a reporter the licence to export the material to the Russians had been obtained from the AEC by the Chemos Corporation of New York, one of the American firms that processes isotopes originally obtained from the AEC.

ALL PLANS PROCEED

Of its over-all program, the AEC said in its report:

"During the first six months of 1937, the nation's atomic energy programs have made steady progress developing a variety of power reactors, in setting governmental policies to aid the growth and operation of an atomic energy industry, in promoting the free world's utilization of atomic energy for mankind's benefit, and in developing nuclear weapons for defence. Advances were made in all major programs."

The AEC also reported that Canadian uranium oxide production, estimated at 3,300 tons a year at the end of 1936, is expected to reach an annual rate of 14,000 to 15,000 tons by mid-1938.

Canadian production can be maintained at that rate for 15 to 20 years on the basis of the official Canadian reserve estimate of 225,000,000 tons of uranium ore, the AEC said.

"However, the Canadian production potential is much greater than the official reserve figure would indicate," the report added, "since it may be assumed that reserves will be greatly expanded in presently known districts."

Canadian ores average slightly more than two pounds of uranium oxide a ton, considerably higher than the South African average of one-half pound a ton, but are only about half the average grade of deposits in the United States.

Girl Stunned, Didn't Reveal Two Drowned

WASAGA BEACH, Ont. (CP)—A 10-year-old girl, rescued from the Nottawasaga River, was so stunned by her experience she didn't reveal her brother and sister had drowned until her rescuers took her home.

Drowned were Gay Chalonier, 8, and John, 6, children of Mr. and Mrs. John Chalonier of Elmville, Ont. Betty Chalonier was pulled from the water by two youths seconds after her brother and sister disappeared.

FINE VIEW ENHANCES BARREN ISLAND HOME OF STUDENT SCIENTISTS

alarming them. At right is small cabin built of driftwood by Takacs. Overlooking Haro Strait, it is landmark on busy Sidney-Anacortes waterway.—(Strickland photos)

VICTORIA, WEDNESDAY, JULY 31 21

MONTE ROBERTS

A seedless grape has, just this minute, set me off on what might loosely be termed a train of thought.

And I hasten to make it clear that the grape in question was in its natural state, in other words, not fermented.

As I munched on the seedless grape in question, the thought came to me:

Now, who in the world is responsible for taking the seeds out of seedless grapes?

It seems to me that removing seeds from seedless grapes must be one of the most exacting and delicate professions imaginable.

Taking the seeds out of seedless oranges or even seedless lemons is as nothing compared to taking the seeds out of seedless grapes.

I would dearly love to meet, and to shake by the hand, the man whose chore it is to take the seeds out of seedless grapes.

And to pursue this train of thought further down the track (before it is derailed), I would also dearly love to meet, and to congratulate, those who:

Take the fire out of fireless cookers.

The sleeves out of sleeveless sweaters and the toes out of toeless slippers.

The tubes out of tubeless tires.

The specialist who took the head off the headless horseman.

And also the canine specialist who removes the hair from a Mexican Hairless.

I would stand in awe were I privileged to meet the man who takes the winding mechanism out of windless watches; the gearshift out of shiftless automobiles; the brush out of brushless shaving cream; the bottom out of bottomless pits; the brains out of brainless idiots; and (oh, happy man that he must be) the one who takes the straps out of strapless brassieres.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Roberts is at this moment meeting the man who puts an end to endless columns—namely, me.)

Pair in Lonely Vigil on Island

By DON INGHAM

A self-imposed four-month exile which leaves no time for brooding is being enjoyed—yes, enjoyed—on lonely Mandarte Island by two young bird watchers.

The island is about one mile east of Sidney Island; the birds are gulls, cormorants, guillemots and other lesser sea birds; and the "watchers" are Gerry van Tets and Joseph Takacs.

Gerry is a UBC student of Dutch background who is working towards a master's degree in biology, and has chosen as the subject for his thesis the "language" of cormorants. Joseph, his man Friday, is a student in the Hungarian school of forestry that was transplanted to B.C. from Sopron University after the revolt last fall against the Red rulers of Hungary.

In order to finance his own studies, Gerry has undertaken a bird-banding program sponsored by the National Research Council and the American Natural History Museum. As a result, the two men have banded 20 adult pigeon guillemots, 31 guillemot chicks, 10 pelagic cormorants, 500 gulls, and three young oyster-catchers.

"We are prouder of the oyster-catchers than of all the rest put together," Gerry told photographer Irving Strickland and me on a visit to the rocky island Tuesday. "They are rare and not often caught."

Simple to Experts

The banding of young birds appears to be a very simple process to one acquainted with birds and their habits. While we watched, Gerry spotted two baby gulls, and in the space of a minute had fastened numbered metal bands on their legs by pinching the bands closed with pliers. They fit loosely, and being made of aluminum, are not heavy enough to bother the birds.

Day in and day out, since about the first of May, one day has gone much like the rest. The two men get up between 7 and 8 a.m. and Gerry cooks breakfast. Joseph does the washing up while Gerry brings his diary up to date, recording their activities and the varieties of birds seen on the island the previous day.

For the remainder of the morning they move from one to the other of the three hides, or shelters, on the island, from which they can watch the birds without alarming them unduly.

In the afternoon they check nests, another facet of their multiple contribution to bird lore, and at night either read, write up their records, or check the cormorant nests they dare not go near in the daytime for fear of frightening the birds.

"That involves clambering around on cliffs of rotten rock, that sometimes comes away in our hands," Gerry said. "We have to be careful."

Spooky at First

The birds were exceedingly spooky when they first arrived on the island, and would fly off in a cloud at the least provocation. Now, however, they complain a little when the two men roam about, but they show no real alarm. Aircraft also leave them cold, but helicopters and eagles send them into a panic.

"We saw gulls practically drive an eagle into the sea," they said.

Great care must be taken not to alarm the birds—there are 4,000 gulls and hundreds of cormorants—to such an extent that they would leave the island and not come back.

"Especially now that we have the van Tets Hotel built," Gerry said.

CLUB SEEKS MONEY TO BUY FIRST GLIDER

The newly-formed Victoria Soaring Club will discuss means of acquiring its first glider at a meeting in the Chamber of Commerce boardroom next Monday at 8 p.m.

"Our membership has now reached more than 50," Russ Jeffs, chairman and founder, said today. "We are now getting down to the essential business of how we can start gliding."

A number of RAF and RCAF veterans have joined the gliding club.

'OUCH'—WARREN

Another Map Obliterates This Island

Latest in the long list of offenders who leave Victoria and Vancouver Island off their maps of the Pacific Northwest—the Washington State Department of Commerce and Economic Development, Olympia, Wash.

The department today received a stiff letter from that eagle-eyed defender of the Island's map-worthiness, Publicity Commissioner George I. Warren.

What grieves Mr. Warren is that this particular map was actually published by the department in Victoria.

It invites Victorians to visit beauty spots in the state of Washington but the white space above the B.C. boundary line shows only one Canadian city—Vancouver.

"We have for many years encouraged international tourist traffic between Victoria, Vancouver Island and the state of Washington," Mr. Warren said today.

"This map is therefore a poor return for the publicity we have given to Washington state."

NEW RECORD SET

55 Minutes, Single Ski, Beat Strait

Juan de Fuca Strait was crossed for the first time today on a single water ski.

The feat of combined skill and endurance was accomplished by 24-year-old college student and part-time radio announcer Dick Goodman, Port Angeles.

Elapsed time was 55 minutes. Goodman gave his reason for the successful try: "I wanted to be the first to do it on one ski."

Take-off time from Ediz Hook was 8 a.m., and the crossing was made under perfect water conditions—enough "ripple" to enable the skier to plane directly in the wake of the towing craft.

Goodman's single ski is called the "banana" type, a fairly wide laminated job built specifically for "single skiing." Two foot grips are on the board, and it is ridden with one foot directly ahead of the other.

Course was from Ediz Hook to Race Rocks, then directly in to the entrance to Inner Harbor.

215 HORSEPOWER
Towing craft was a Bell-Boy cruiser with a twin Interceptor turning up 215 horsepower. Speed averaged 30 miles per hour, indicating about 28 miles were covered. Direct-line route is 18 miles.

Navigator-captain of the tow boat was Gay Harshman, and official observer and timer was his wife, Nancy.

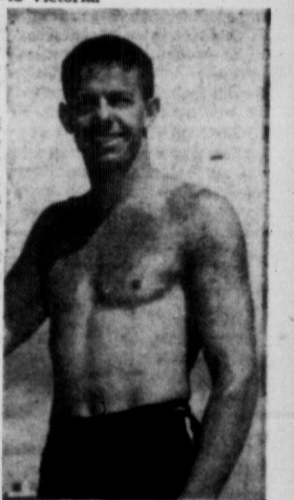

Goodman reports two other water skiers from Port Angeles are going to attempt the feat soon and will try to beat his time.

They are Ron Parks and John Sweet.

Says Goodman: "They're both better skiers than I am, that's why I wanted to try it first."

The Strait was crossed by four Langford men—using two skis each.

Cliff Johnson and Don Lowe crossed from Victoria to Port Angeles, Krute Johnson and Neal Smith from Port Angeles to Victoria.

DICK GOODMAN

... crossed strait on one ski.

Span on Schedule

Point Ellice Bridge reconstruction is on schedule with work in progress at the west end and retaining walls, and the Victoria Machinery Depot east end approach, city engineer James Garnett said Tuesday. Steel fabrication in Vancouver for the bridge is ahead of schedule, he said.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Strips advertising British Columbia's 1958 centennial year are already being displayed on 70 billboards in Washington and Oregon owned by Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau.

"Our advertising campaign for next year is well underway," publicity commissioner George Warren said.

"The sooner we get people talking about our celebrations the better. Then they can start making their plans to come here."

Two city law firms have merged.

Straith & Co. and Cross and O'Grady have merged into the new firm of Straith, O'Grady, Buchanan & Smith. Firm members are W. T. Straith, T. P. O'Grady, W. A. Buchanan and Angus Smith.

Gerald Cross is now provincial legislative counsel.

ASK THE TIMES

Q.—Did Sir George Foster who for long when I was a boy was so well known in Canadian politics and administration ever deliver an address in Victoria?

A.—Yes when in his 65th year and a member of the Senate of Canada, he addressed a capacity audience in the First Presbyterian Church (now the First United Church) on the evening of Sept. 2, 1925. He was still the possessor of a powerful intellect and his speech brimmed with loyalty to Canada and his hopes for Canada and the rest of the British Commonwealth.

Any wishing a question answered is invited to send the question along to The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

David Wilson, 3, of 944 Southgate, Victoria, who suffered a fractured skull when he fell from a car driven by his mother on the Loughheed Highway near Vancouver Saturday night, was reported improving at the Vancouver General Hospital child health centre Tuesday night.

Four sharpshooters from Victoria and Esquimalt will represent the RCN Pacific Command Rifle Association at the Canadian Rifle Association meet at Ottawa, Aug. 10 to 17.

They are: CPO Walter Burch, HMCS Malahat; CPO George Grotke, PO Robert McCallum, and LS Harry Wells, all of HMCS Naden.

Two Sidney teenagers suffered head injuries Tuesday night when the car in which they were driving failed to make a turn from Queens Avenue on the Pat Bay Highway and wound up in a ditch.

William Lumley, 17, Fifth Street, Sidney, and his brother Bob, 16, were taken to Resthaven Hospital by Sidney RCMP. They were in "good" condition today.

Thursday Meetings

Victoria Rotary: Empress Hotel, noon luncheon. Dr. C. L. Lamberton, Dalhousie University, will speak on "Politics in Nova Scotia."

Vitality Health Club: Orange Hall, 7:30 p.m. G. E. Tracy, Vancouver, will outline recent advances in nutritional therapy.

Oak Bay Kiwanis: Oak Bay Beach Hotel, 6:15 p.m. CPR film on Lake Louise will be shown.

St. Andrew's and Caledonian Society: Members will meet at Knights of Pythias Hall, 6:30 p.m., for transportation to beach party at Cadboro Bay.

Y's Men's Club: YMCA, 6:30 p.m.

A missing minister from Portland, who recently concluded a 119-day fast, may be in Victoria.

The Baptist minister disappeared from his houseboat in Portland after notifying the press that he had ended his fast.

He also phoned his Portland physician several times by long distance telephone.

The doctor totaled up the amount of money deposited for calls from pay booths and called the police. He believes the minister is in Victoria, Vancouver or Bellingham.

City public works committee Tuesday turned down a suggestion from Thetis Park concessionaire that overnight camping be allowed.

If people camp "higgledy-piggledy" the park would soon look like a slum, said city engineer James Garnett.

3 Probationers Bring Force Up to Strength

Victoria police force was brought up to strength today with acceptance of three probationary constables as third class constables, bringing them into the force proper.

Police commission accepted Constables David W. Glancy 28, Elmer G. Keleny, 24, and Norman V. Hansen, 24, who had all served more than six months as probationers.

This brings the constabulary strength of city police to 62.

"These are all good men," said Police Chief John Blackstock in recommending their advancement.

No Charges Laid Yet In Fatal Chase

No charge has been laid against the driver of a stolen car which plunged 35 feet to Stony Beach off Dallas Road Friday, Deputy Chief Harry Mercer said today.

A coroner's jury Tuesday returned a verdict of "culpable neglect" against the driver, still unknown.

One youth, Gunnar Stebeck, 13, was killed in the accident which followed a police chase through the city.

Still unconscious and in serious condition at St. Joseph's Hospital are James Lott, 13, of 1321 Haultain, and Raymond Murdoch, 12, of 1488 Taunton.

Fourth occupant of the car, Barry Jackson, 15, of 2604 Roseberry, was released from St. Joseph's Tuesday afternoon.

Mining Industry Suggestions Mostly Worked Into New Act

Mines Minister Kenneth Kiernan said today "nearly all" the suggestions made by the B.C. mining industry regarding implementation of new provincial legislation have been adopted by the government.

He made the statement in releasing details of how the new system of leases, replacing Crown-granted mineral claims, will be applied.

The new system was adopted through an amendment to the Mineral Act passed at the spring session of the legislature.

Mining men immediately protested that the legislation was discriminatory against prospectors, and did not give the industry sufficient assurance of long-term tenure.

These fears have now been allayed, Mr. Kiernan said.

In applying the act the government is seeking as much flexibility as possible, Mr. Kiernan said.

"We don't want to lay down a policy so rigid that it would confront a practical operation with regulations that are unworkable," he said.

Under the previous method of Crown-granted claims, individuals or firms could hold mineral properties in perpetuity without developing them.

"We didn't think it was in the best interests of the people of British Columbia that anyone could buy up the resources of the province and then sit on them," Mr. Kiernan said.

REVIEW POSSIBLE

Under the new system, the government will be able to review leases to see that work requirements are being carried out.

"But anyone who is ready to do business will not find us difficult," Mr. Kiernan said. "We want development."

Here is how the new system will work:

Any person who holds a free miner's certificate can locate, record and hold a mineral claim for five years.

A retention or production lease can be obtained only by the holder of a mineral claim who has done $500 work on the claim or paid cash in lieu of work.

Gold commissioners are authorized to issue a five-year retention lease if the claim holder submits an affidavit that, in his opinion, the property cannot profitably be put into production at that time.

RENEWAL POSSIBLE

If application is made to renew a five-year retention lease, the mines department may require a written certificate by a registered mining or geological engineer to the effect that the minerals in the leasehold cannot profitably be put into production.

Provided the department is satisfied, there is no set limit to the number of times a retention lease may be renewed.

An application for a 21-year production lease must be accompanied by a plan of development and production.

Production leases can be renewed. The leases will not be revoked if production is suspended for economic reasons during the 21-year period.

Suede Jewelry Is Smart With Tailored Ensemble

By PENNY SAVER

I found some good-looking jewelry today to wear with tailored dresses or sweaters and skirts. It's made of suede, a material I certainly hadn't thought of before in connection with jewelry.

The suede is set in gold metal to form a plain, wide bracelet and round clip-on earrings, and comes in either black or cinnamon. The cinnamon pieces are here, the black will be very soon.

Price of the bracelet is $2, the earrings are $1.

I haven't known any budgie personally, but I understand they are sometimes reluctant to take their baths. But they enjoy looking at themselves in a mirror, so you can solve the problem with a plastic bathtub with a mirror in the bottom. These are 98 cents.

If the budgie still won't co-operate, you can buy liquid cleanser to spray over his feathers for 59 cents.

EASY GAME

Dominoes is a game that even the youngest in your family will enjoy if you have a set that doesn't rely on the usual dots.

A new type of dominoes can be played by matching colors or pictures as well as dots. A set is $1.19.

LOUISE DAVIS

YOU CAN'T PLEASE EVERYONE

A large wedding is being planned for our daughter who will have a maid of honor and eight bridesmaids, and there will be an equal number of boys in the bridal party. Before the ceremony, we will have a dinner for about 150 people, which will be for only the relatives on both sides, so you can see that both families are large. After the ceremony, there will be a big reception for about 400. There is criticism from some of the mothers of the girl attendants. They say that since they are paying for their daughters' dresses they and their husbands should be invited to the dinner. What is the ruling on this? If these parents have to be invited, then of course we'll do it, but it means that we should include the parents of the best man and ushers.

LOUISE DAVIS ANSWERS:

There is no reason at all why you are obligated to ask these people. It just happens that your dinner seems large, and indeed it is, but you are not inviting anyone but relatives. Even your closest friends would have priority over the attendants' parents. Your dinner can be any size you wish, and no one should criticize you, for that is your own business and, at the same time, you have no intention of slighting anyone. These parents, amounting to thirty-six people (if all are available), will undoubtedly be invited to the reception and to the ceremony, so there is no reason why they should feel that they must be included in everything. Like many others, you are finding out that you can't please everyone.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Don't overlook the ceiling when painting a room. Because of its importance as a light-reflecting surface, it should have a flat coating that reflects light evenly.

Baking a whole fish? You can simplify the job of washing up afterwards by lining the pan with greased aluminum foil. Then, when the fish is cooked, simply roll up the foil and throw it away.

Most packaged prunes will boil tender in 15 to 20 minutes. Give them a new flavor by adding a few mint sprigs to the hot prunes. Cover closely and let stand overnight. Wonderful to use in salads and for garnishes.

Yearning Finds Expression In Music for Northland Song

By ELIZABETH FORBES

"I was homesick for the north," is the way Elinor Dusenbury explains the fact that she wrote the music for "Alaska's Flag," official territorial anthem of Alaska.

"We had spent three years in Alaska from 1934 to 1937 at Chilkoot Barracks, a small army post where my husband, Col. Ralph Dusenbury was in charge. When we came out I couldn't get the North out of my blood. I was right down homesick."

Just about that time Marie Drake, a friend of Mrs. Dusenbury and deputy minister of bad, Calif. The Chilkoot Barrack at Port Chilkoot has long since been abandoned and a small town named Haines has taken its place, "right at the end of the Alaska Highway."

"We went back every summer for five years, when we first left Chilkoot," Elinor Dusenbury says, "but it seemed as if we were more homesick each time, so we stopped that. Now, we only go up once in a long while."

To offset her yearning for the north country, Mrs. Dusenbury keeps busy with community work in Carlsbad. She is regional director of Country Friends, a philanthropic group of women that covers most of California. They give concerts, plays, garden parties and various other events and all the money goes to charity.

She is also a member of the Oceanside-Carlsbad Orchestra Association, a group that sponsors concerts throughout the year.

The Dusenburys motored north along the Pacific coast with relatives from Miami. Today they go to Nantima and then to Vancouver from where they will start south again. They have been staying at Crystal Motel in Victoria.

education at Juneau, wrote the poem "Alaska's Flag."

"It was after the flag had been adopted up there," Elinor Dusenbury says, "and the explanation of the design sent out for the schools was so complicated Marie Drake said it would never be understood by the children."

"She was challenged to write a better explanation... and she came up with the poem."

A friend sent the words to Mrs. Dusenbury, who was in Omaha.

"I was so homesick for Alaska when I read it, I sat down and composed the music for the song."

The NBC studio in Omaha liked it so well, they sent it on to famed Fred Waring who introduced it on the air.

Finally the people of Alaska adopted it as the territorial anthem and it is now being printed in Alaska and distributed there.

Col. and Mrs. Dusenbury are retired now and living at Carls-

MacMillan, Bloedel Profits Down

VANCOUVER (CP)—Lower prices and increased costs were responsible for a lower third-quarter profit for the period ended June 30, MacMillan & Bloedel Ltd. reported Wednesday.

Net income for the quarter was $3,081,389 compared with $5,572,439 for the corresponding period in 1956. This gave a net earnings per share figure of 58 cents against $1.05 last year.

Drug Peddler, 21, Jailed 10 Years

VANCOUVER (CP)—Naomi Green, 21, was sentenced today to 10 years in jail for drug trafficking in what Magistrate Gordon Scott called "an aggravated case of its kind."

Magistrate Scott said: "This woman established herself at a certain coffee counter and there she carried on a retail business in selling drugs."

Six Killed in Truck-Car Collision

VINELAND, N.J. (AP)—Five adults and a child were crushed to death today when a trailer truck rammed into the rear of a car.

State police said the car apparently stopped suddenly and the oil truck plowed into the vehicle.

British Chief Flies to Persian Gulf

NICOSIA, Cyprus (Reuters)—Lt. Gen. Sir Geoffrey Bourne, commander-in-chief of British Middle East land forces, is going by air shortly to the Persian Gulf where British fighter planes are operating against rebels opposed to the British-backed sultan of Muscat and Oman.

Army officials declined to disclose when he will take off or the exact purpose of his mission.

Dave Beck Loses Tax Fight Round

TACOMA (AP)—Dave Beck lost out in U.S. District Court today in efforts to block the appearance of two of his accountants before the Federal Grand Jury probing deeper into his income tax returns.

Judge George H. Boldt denied a petition by the teamsters' chief to quash subpoenas for the accountants, Ludwig Lobe and Carl E. Houston, both of Seattle.

OFFERED WINDSOR THRONE

Nazis Held Crown As Surrender Price

WASHINGTON (AP)—Captured Second World War documents made public today disclosed that the Nazis offered in 1940 to put the Duke of Windsor back on the British throne provided he undercut Prime Minister Churchill and got his people to surrender.

They backed their plan with phony bomb scares and other threats to his life and the life of his American-born wife—"the woman I love" for whom he gave up the throne in 1936.

But the Nazis thought he "hesitated even up to the last moment."

They blamed the duke's legal adviser and then deputy foreign minister Sir Walter Monckton, as the nemesis who "influenced" the duke to reject their grandiose plan.

There was nothing in the documents about any direct contact between the duke and any Germans.

Apparently, the Germans carried on all their efforts through Portuguese and Spanish intermediaries.

The British Embassy, commenting on the documents, declared they "are necessarily a much tainted source."

Arms Talks At Crisis, West Divided

LONDON (AP)—U.S. State Secretary Dulles met for the first time with Russian delegate Valerian Zorin today amid indications that the protracted United Nations disarmament talks may be at a critical turning point.

The Dulles-Zorin get-together was part of feverish diplomatic activity by the Big Three Western powers on this next to the last day of the period originally set for the negotiations by the UN disarmament subcommittee. The five-power group has been meeting since March 18.

Dulles met with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and other Western officials before sitting down at a full-scale "working luncheon" of all five delegations on the subcommittee, including Zorin.

In Paris, the French cabinet met and afterwards Foreign Minister Christian Pineau announced he was flying Thursday to London at Dulles' request for disarmament talks.

The British cabinet, too, was called into session.

In addition, Dulles planned to confer with Prime Minister Macmillan at dinner tonight to discuss the arms situation and other world problems.

The intense diplomatic manoeuvring seemed to indicate either that Britain, France and the United States have run into basic differences in their approach to the disarmament problem—or that they are pre-

30 CP Freight Cars Derailed, Cattle Killed

WINNIPEG (CP)—About 30 cars were derailed at nearby Rosser, Man., Tuesday night when an eastbound CPR freight train plowed into the rear of another freight which had stopped on a siding after a hotbox developed. Many cattle were killed and a large quantity of grain spilled.

Three Winnipeg crewmen of the derailed train were taken to hospital, although not badly hurt. They are Douglas Cameron, 38, engineer, who suffered a badly lacerated ear and a few bruises; Thomas Miller, 18, front brakeman, with a few bruises; and fireman, James Varnes, 30, who suffered lacerations.

Oman Rebels Cracking Land Attack Imminent

MUSCAT, Sultanate of Muscat and Oman (UP)—A land attack on the rebels of Oman is imminent and the 200-strong rebel forces already are showing signs of cracking, the Sultan's foreign minister said today.

The minister, a Briton named Neil Innes, said pro-sultan tribes and British officered troops are marshalling around the 25 by 15-mile mountain area held by the Imam, religious leader of the rebel forces.

Innes said the rebels already have lost control of Izki, the key town in the rebel-held area. The Beau Geste-style fort of Izki has been a main target of Royal Air Force Venom jet rocket attacks in recent days.

Innes said surrender ultimatums have been sent to rebel Imam Ghaleb and his brother, Talib, and that it was unlikely the Imam and his brother would be treated leniently if they did not heed the ultimatum.

Use of Ghost Cars Being Considered

Crackdown on law-breaking juvenile drivers was ordered today by Victoria Police Commission.

The drive will start immediately and use of ghost cars, manned by plainclothesmen, is being considered as one means of curbing the menace.

The firm stand taken at a commission meeting was sparked by the recent death of a 13-year-old boy, Gunnar Stebeck, in an off-cliff crash on Dallas Road in a stolen car in which three other juveniles were injured.

"Crack down on the juvenile drivers out for a crazy time," said Commissioner Gordon Carter.

"Strict enforcement of the law is the answer," said Commissioner William Hamilton.

Mr. Carter said "people are screaming" against behavior of adolescents in cars.

"It is worth the taxpayers' money to do something about it." It is time, said Mr. Hamilton, that juvenile drivers learned they can't "laugh" at the police department.

"Throw the Book" at Young Roadhogs

Commission chairman, Mayor Percy Scurrell, said:

"Get tough, as tough as blazes. The time has arrived when we can't afford to be lenient. I'd throw the book at any juveniles breaking driving laws."

Mr. Hamilton suggested that cars, driven by teenagers, which cruise around and around the Yates-Douglas area, be stopped again and again and the drivers asked for licences.

That, he said, would discourage the drivers, on the prowl for other youths or "pick-up" girl friends.

Police Chief John Blackstock said he was handicapped by a lack of men in dealing with the problem.

But he said he would work out the situation and hit it hard.

Mr. Scurrell said if money for a ghost car was not in the budget, he'd ask city council to dig the money out of contingency funds.

"We must do anything we can do to stop this," he said concerning teen-age driving habits.

The police chief added that his men were clamping down on drivers who left keys in their cars, which left them wide open for juveniles to steal.

But he added nothing could be done when wires behind the dashboard were crossed.

The mayor urged that the Motor Vehicle Branch of the provincial government be approached with stiffer recommendations from the police department for lengthening of licence suspensions for juvenile infractors.

Police Chief Blackstock suggested that the death car in the recent Dallas crash be dis-

'Hurricane' To Continue Fighting

EAST MEADOW, N.Y. (AP)

—Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson, preparing to leave hospital against his doctors' advice, said today he intends to continue his fighting career.

The 25-year-old New York heavyweight contender, who entered the hospital five hours after he absorbed a savage beating from champion Floyd Patterson Monday night, signed a paper releasing the hospital from all responsibility.

Doctors at the hospital said he suffered a bruised kidney in the fight. They wanted the eccentric fighter to remain in the hospital for observation and further checks for several more days.

Jackson's temperature was normal today and there was no evidence of blood in his urine, the hospital authorities said. He had a temperature of 102 and blood in his urine when he was admitted early Tuesday morning.

"I can still fight and win," said Jackson in discussing his future plans. "I've been hit hard before."

All 18 entrants in the Junior Chamber of Commerce mass swim attempt on Juan de Fuca Strait are today in training in local waters.

With only four days to go before "plunge" time Sunday, swimmers are spending as much as eight hours daily in training.

The race will start at 12 noon Sunday from Horseshoe Bay, Beacon Hill Park.

Each swimmer will be accompanied by a rowboat and a powerboat.

The contestants represent seven cities in Canada and the United States. Cities are Victoria, Oakland, San Francisco, Vancouver, Detroit, Roxbury, Mass., and Atlantic City, N.J.

A jackpot of $10,000 will be divided among the swimmers who cross the strait.

First prize is $5,000; second, $2,500; third, $1,500, and fourth, $1,000.

Jaycee swim committee officials said they felt that at least four swimmers will finish the course, providing the weather is ideal for the event.

"There are some powerful swimmers in the group," said one official. "Some have had wide experience and are accustomed to cold water."

Some of the swimmers have been training secretly. One is Anna Burian, of Vancouver, who came to Victoria two weeks ago but did not let anyone know of her arrival.

California's top swimmers include Gene Perle, Amy Hilland, Paul Herron, Myra Thompson and Toufie Blake.

One European, Jason Greganos, a former Greek army major, also is entered.

Youthful Driver Gets Jail Term

(From CP Dispatches)

HOPE—Jail sentence of six months definite and six months indefinite in the young offenders unit at Oakalla was imposed Tuesday on a 16-year-old boy who pleaded guilty to criminal negligence.

Jailed and denied the right to drive for two years was Raymond J. Stolz of Hope. He appeared first in juvenile court, then adult police court.

RCMP testified that young Stolz first came to their attention when he nearly collided with them. He swung out of 30-mile-per-hour traffic at a construction project and could not get back on his own side of the highway.

Two constables testified they tried to stop the young driver, but he swung off in his five-ton truck at speeds up to 80 miles per hour, forcing about 22 cars off the road as he went. Police were unable to keep up with him but finally arrested the youth when he stalled on a turn.

ACCIDENTS KILL TWO

PRINCE RUPERT—A small girl is dead and a man is believed to have drowned in separate accidents.

Bonita Danes, 2, was drowned at Port Edward when she lost her balance while leaning through a railing and fell into the water, RCMP disclosed Tuesday.

Walter Parnell, 39, of Massett is missing and presumed to have drowned. His boat was sighted overturned near Massett Monday morning. He was last seen going towards his boat Sunday night.

ARSONIST SENTENCED

VANCOUVER—Norman Taylor was sentenced Tuesday to two years imprisonment on seven charges of arson. He was acquitted of two others.

RCMP APPOINTMENT

NEW WESTMINSTER—Inspector I. C. Shank, 46, veteran RCMP officer and former footballer and boxer, has been appointed commanding officer of the New Westminster RCMP sub-division.

A native of Athabasca, Alta., Inspector Shank played with the Regina Roughriders in 1935 and was at one time a Saskatchewan boxing champion. He is a brother of Oliver Shank, Canada's 1936 Olympic boxing champion.

SURVIVES 50 FT. FALL

VANCOUVER—A construction worker fell 50 feet from the Second Narrows Bridge Tuesday suffering head and chest injuries.

The worker, Joseph Wiesmeier, 30, was later reported in serious condition in Vancouver General Hospital.

DRUG CACHE SEIZED

VANCOUVER—RCMP officers seized a cache of heroin in suburban Burnaby which police say may be worth as much as $45,000.

One man was arrested and more arrests were expected. The eight ounces, seized at a house, amounted to the biggest heroin haul here in many months.

JAILED FOR ASSAULT

NELSON—Gerald Charles Lanigan of Nelson was sentenced Tuesday to two years in the B.C. Penitentiary on a charge of assault causing bodily harm to a 14-year-old Nelson girl. Lanigan pleaded guilty before Magistrate R. S. Nelson July 23.

Nickel, copper, lead and zinc were deposited in Northern Ontario by volcanic eruptions during formation of the Precambrian Shield.

Faulty Work, Material Probed In Earthquake

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The possibility arose today that builders or building owners may be prosecuted as a result of Sunday's earthquakes.

The federal district prosecutor's office said experts would carefully check materials used in the 50 odd buildings which collapsed in the capital against specifications in their building permits. A spokesman said serious discrepancies would result in criminal charges.

Some engineers contend that most buildings in the Mexican capital are built to withstand quakes. These experts charge that faulty materials or construction methods were responsible for many of the structural collapses.

The country-wide death toll rose meanwhile to 68. The governor of Guerrero reported two more fatalities in that Pacific coast state.

The death count in the Mexico City federal district stood at 52. Rescue squads completed their search through the ruins of a five-story apartment house, the last such site to be combed, without finding further bodies. Thirty-two persons were killed in the collapse of that building, and one of 12 rescued died later.

'WON'T LAST LONG' SAYS OFFICIAL

Lunch Hour Shutdown Due For B.C. Offices Thursday

The provincial government's new "close for lunch-hour" order to the civil service goes into effect tomorrow, August 1. But just how it's going to affect the public was not very clear today.

Officially all offices are supposed to close which do not have to be open for legal purposes or provide necessary services.

The result is that a good many offices will be open with skeleton staffs, although most civil servants are supposed to have lunch between noon and 1:10 p.m. under the government's order.

It all depends on department heads' interpretation of what are "necessary services," a Times survey showed today.

Although it was the intention of Premier Bennett that the buildings should be closed as tightly as possible to permit a uniform lunch hour, there are indications it may not work out that way.

"This thing won't last very long," one government official told The Times.

"Because government offices are closed Saturday, lunch hours are the only time many working people can get in."

"If someone gets into my office just before 12 how can I close it up? Or if someone asks for an appointment in the noon hour, I can't turn him down."

But there is no uniformity. For example:

There will be little change in the operation of the Motor-Vehicles Branch.

The provincial museum will remain open.

Doors of the library and archives will be open but there will be no service to the public. General office of the mines department will have a skeleton staff.

Liquor stores are unaffected by the order, since they have separate regulations.

The only offices which are required by statute to keep their doors open throughout the day are the court registry, land registry and mine recording office.

The companies' office will be staffed during the noon hour.

All offices of the finance department, including tax collectors' will be closed. So will the lands department.

In drawing up the order on instructions of the premier, the Civil Service Commission intended that "necessary" services should apply only to provincial jail staffs, nurses and other really essential personnel.

FEW ESSENTIALS

"There are not many places that couldn't be closed," an official said.

He added, however, that the order may have to be relaxed after a trial period.

A side effect of the new lunch order will be on the government employees' cafeteria in the Douglas Building.

Already operating at close to capacity during the lunch hour, the cafeteria accommodation will be strained by a sudden rush of employees at noon.

Ike Denies Favoritism In Envoy Appointment

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower today angrily denied that a $30,000 contribution to the Republican party influenced his choice of businessman Maxwell Gluck as American ambassador to Ceylon. He said at a press conference that a man's political contributions would never be considered by him in making an official appointment.

And, he added, he didn't take it very kindly that someone should suggest he would be swayed by such a consideration.

Hoffa Linked With Gangster

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Senate rackets committee charged today that James R. Hoffa, crown prince of the big teamsters' union, joined with racketeer John (Johnny Dio) Dioguardi in seeking an economic stranglehold of the eastern seaboard.

They also said he by-passed the teamsters' hierarchy to charter seven New York "paper locals" and rig a union election.

Committee Chairman John J. McClellan (D-Ark.), Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-S.D.), and Chief Counsel Robert F. Kennedy stressed the danger to the nation when key union leaders are "beholden" to gangsters and racketeers.

The charges were made in committee discussion preliminary to taking testimony this afternoon in the newest phase

Peron Charges Fraud

CARACAS, Venezuela (UP)—Ousted Argentine ex-president Juan D. Peron said today only "scandalous fraud" made his party appear to be the second largest political group in Argentina's Sunday election. Peron said nearly a million of his supporters had been denied the right to vote.

Airman Acquitted

OTTAWA (CP)—LAC Joseph Tessier today was freed of a manslaughter charge made against him in the June 11 death of LAC Joseph R. Duffy. Evidence in magistrate's court was that Duffy died of a ruptured blood vessel in his brain during a scuffle between the two men.

Douks to Hold Mass Meeting

NELSON, B.C. (CP)—A mass meeting of district Sons of Freedom will be held at Krestova Sunday to hear reports of a delegation to Victoria last week which was told the government had no plans for summer vacations for Freedomite children.

Decision to hold the meeting was made following funeral of Mrs. Mary Geinger, who was found dead at Krestova last Wednesday, the day the delegation met government officials.

A coroner's jury found Tuesday night that Mrs. Geinger died from asphyxia due to strangulation caused by hanging.

ations and bruises and is in fair condition. Miller and Cameron are reported in good condition.

A siding employee said the engineer and fireman jumped from their diesel locomotive just before it rammed into the caboose of the stationary freight. Miller remained in the cab. The locomotive ended up twisted and straddled across three sets of tracks.

The moving freight smashed about four or five of the rear cars of the stationary train. No one was in the caboose.

The crash scene was littered with dead cattle. RCMP had to shoot many of the beasts, trapped in and under the wreckage. Some of the dazed animals were pulled out from under the jackknifed cars, to walk away on wobbly legs. Many had to be destroyed by a veterinarian.

500 Island Workers In Forestry Layoff

VANCOUVER (CP)—MacMillan and Bloedel Ltd. said Tuesday it will lay off 500 men during August in temporary suspension of operations at five eastern Vancouver Island lumber camps.

Affected will be 160 men at Copper Canyon, 125 at Nanaimo River and 30 at Menzies Bay, which will close Aug. 3 to Sept. 2 inclusive, and 135 men at Northwest Bay and 50 at Shawinigan Lake, which will both close Aug. 17 to Sept. 2.

of its work—teamster activities in the New York City area.

Kennedy said Dio wormed his way into the labor movement in 1950 when he took over a catch-all union first chartered by the old AFL. Hoffa, he said, has a "close relationship" with Dio and once invited him to "bring his union into the teamsters."

The counsel said that Dave Beck, who is stepping down as teamsters' president after being accused of misusing more than $320,000 of the union's funds, blocked one attempt by Hoffa to get Dio into the teamsters.

James Fulton Jr., of Hilliers, was thrown from the truck, and died at 2:35 p.m. in West Coast General Hospital.

Injured was Arnold Rawling of Coombs, also about 16, who was reported today to be in satisfactory condition in the hospital.

Werner Hartman, 28, driver of the Unimog truck and employee of Mercedes-Benz Distributors in Vancouver, was bruised slightly.

ON WAY HOME

It is believed Hartman had picked the two boys up on his way home from here.

The accident occurred when the truck failed to make a curve, plunged off the road, crossed a culvert, then crashed into a large tree.

The two boys were thrown from the metal box of the truck, and hit the ground 15 and 20 feet beyond the truck. Eyewitnesses were Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Thomas of Port Alberni, who were driving behind the truck. Also closely behind were Mr. and Mrs. K. R. Smith, Port Alberni, and it was Mrs. Smith, a registered nurse, who gave first aid.

STEERING JAMMED

Hartman told police that the steering gear seemed to jam on the curve just prior to the accident. Speed was estimated at less than 40 miles per hour.

Cathedral Grove, scene of the fatal crash, is a provincial park a mile west of Cameron Lake.

An inquest will open at 7 to-night under direction of Dr. Chester Inglis, coroner, then will adjourn. It will reconvene after the return of the Smith and Thomas families, who were setting off on vacation trips by car when the accident occurred.

paring some important new proposal for Russian consideration.

Most signs seem to point to a difference among the three Western nations on nuclear matters. However, following the "working luncheon" at the home of U.S. Ambassador John Hay Whitney the Western nations, arranged a meeting of their experts to draw up a list of the subjects on which the Western Allies are still at odds.

After the list had been thrashed out by the experts, it will be discussed by Dulles, Lloyd and other top-level officials.

It appeared likely that Zorin would be given at least the outline of a limited "open skies" proposal to guard against a sneak nuclear attack which Dulles and other Western officials had agreed upon in private talks Tuesday and today.

Fisherman Drowned

VANCOUVER (CP)—A sports fisherman who drowned Tuesday at Brunswick Beach, five miles north of Horseshoe Bay, has been identified as James O'Hein, 45, of Vancouver.

A company spokesman said here the layoffs have been made necessary because of over-supply of logs at sawmills resulting from mild winter weather and steady work through lack of fire danger in the spring and summer.

Egg Prices Rise, Production Falls

After a summer price slump caused by heavy production, eggs increased two cents for Grade A large and three cents for mediums at the producer level Monday.

Wholesale prices increased by the same amounts. Retail prices are expected to range from 58 to 62 cents for large, and 54 to 58 cents for medium.

Buckell Jailed For 10 Years

VANCOUVER (CP)—John William Buckell, 43, was sentenced by Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson in Assize Court today to ten years on each of two charges of attempted murder and one of attempted bank robbery. The terms will run concurrently.

Buckell, an accountant, was convicted by an Assize Court jury early on the three counts, laid as a result of an attempted robbery of the Royal Bank of Canada main branch, at Granville and Hastings Street, in Vancouver on March 15.

Police constable Kenneth Miles and bank employee Ronald Compton were wounded in capturing Buckell outside the bank. Both men recovered.

NO WORD ON CHARGES AGAINST 'SWITCH' BOYS

WINNIPEG (CP)—The mother of two small boys, seven and nine years of age, who loosened a sliding switch that derailed a Canadian National Railway's train and injured 86 persons, says she does not know whether charges will be laid against them.

In a telephone interview she said "we haven't heard a word yet."

CNR Vice-President J. R. McMillan would neither confirm nor deny a report that it is unlikely charges will be laid against the boys.

Courses Planned In Conservation

NANAIMO (CP)—Consideration is being given to introduction of a course in conservation in B.C. schools, Earle C. Westwood, minister of conservation and recreation, told Nanaimo Kiwanis Club Tuesday.

Mr. Westwood said a UBC professor is studying the matter. Whether the course will be given in high schools or elementary schools or both, had yet to be decided.

"I feel our young people should be given a course in conservation because people throughout B.C. are beginning to recognize the value of the resources they hold and the importance of handing on this heritage intact," he said.

Because of the growing trend to seek recreation off the lakes and coastal waters, the province was conducting a survey to spot a series of marine parks to accommodate the 50,000 small boat owners of British Columbia.
